

Drive Into Red Korea Grinds Ahead Under New Boss, Ridgway

TOKYO — (AP) — Command of United Nations forces in Korea shifted abruptly today from General MacArthur to Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

Many of the fighting men in the Korean front lines did not know at a late hour Wednesday that President Truman had fired MacArthur.

The U. N. drive into Red Korea ground ahead. Allied air and artillery barrages wiped out the key Chinese base of Chorwon on the western front. Chorwon is 17 miles north of the border. American, British and Turkish troops scored new gains.

Pockets Wiped Out

On the central front, American troops drove along the southern shores of Hwachon reservoir toward the big dam and power grid. Censorship obscured their progress.

On the east coast where South Korean troops had thrust about 15 miles north of the border, there were no reports of ground action. Allied ships pounded rail lines and roads.

South Korea was virtually free of Communist troops. The last major pocket of Reds was holding out west of the Imjin River on the extreme western front.

Ridgway and Secretary of Army Frank Pace were reported touring the front. They were not available at Eighth army headquarters when news of MacArthur's dismissal and Ridgway's promotion arrived.

Headquarters sources said Lt. Gen. Frank E. Milburn, First corps commander, probably would command the Eighth army until the arrival of Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, who was named to succeed Ridgway.

Milburn commanded the army temporarily after the death last December of Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker.

Chorwon, western anchor of the Red buildup area, was the headquarters of three Chinese army corps. Field dispatches said it was completely destroyed. American artillery opened up on it for the first time three days ago.

Hwachon, seven miles north of parallel 38, was the eastern base of the Communist buildup area. Intelligence reports placed nearly one-half million Communist combat troops in the Chorwon-Hwachon-Kumhwa triangle.

There was bloody fighting near Yongong, on the western front. The Reds hurled mortar fire into an American unit and were pounded in turn by American artillery. Two American infantry attacks failed to rout the Chinese.

Legislature Snubs Williams Plea For Tax Compromise

LANSING — (AP) — The Republican legislature yesterday snubbed Governor Williams' ninth-inning plea for a compromise on new tax bills.

Whether the game goes into extra innings remains to be seen.

The governor told committees of both houses that "almost in desperation to get us off dead center" he was offering a new plan to solve the stalemate between his demand for a corporation profits tax and the G. O. P.'s yearning for a two-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax increase.

Two-Cent Levy Pushed

This is what the governor offered:

1. A three to four per cent corporation profits tax to pay state operating expenses and catch up with past deficits;

2. A gas tax boost of three-fourths of a cent, $6,750,000 in higher truck weight (license) taxes and a modest diesel fuel tax — all to improve the highways.

3. No other new taxes this year. This is the way the legislature reacted:

1. The House whipped a two-cent gas tax increase through debate and ready for final passage in about two hours, along with a $3,850,000 boost in the truck license fees.

2. The Senate picked up a bill increasing the corporation privilege tax, dormant on its desks for five weeks, and prepared it for a final vote.

The House and Senate bills will be ready for votes Thursday. The House definitely will pass its measures, which then will go to a House-Senate conference committee. The Senate appeared

Scots Restore Stone Of Scone

Stolen Coronation Slab Returned

ARBROATH, Scotland — (AP) — Britain's famed coronation stone—or its twin—was delivered today to the custodian of Arbroath Abbey—a shrine of Scottish nationalism. The stone had been stolen from Westminster Abbey in London on Christmas morning.

The delivery was made by two members of an organization seeking more self rule for Scotland. It was plain from their statement that they believed the stone should remain in Scotland.

The men said they acted "with great sincerity" to enable the stone to be "safely restored to the Scottish people and the king."

Eight Airmen Killed In Glider Pickup At Fairbanks, Alaska

FAIRBANKS, Alaska — (AP) — A routine attempt to pick up a glider at Ladd Air Force base ended in the fiery crash of a low-flying four-motored C-54 transport plane with a loss of eight lives yesterday.

The Air Force transport plane exploded and burst into flames after striking a runway. Black smoke from the crashed plane could be seen five miles away.

Witnesses said flames consumed the crashed plane from tail to engine inside a minute after it hit the ground with its eight-man crew.

DISILLUSIONED — Movie actor Sterling Hayden, (above) husky Marine Corps hero, told the House Un-American Activities committee that he joined the Communist party in June of 1946 and quit in December of the same year, disillusioned by the promises of the Reds. He called the incident the "stupidest, most ignorant thing" he had ever done in his life.

Legislature Snubs Williams Plea For Tax Compromise

likely to pass its tax bill.

Informal reaction to the governor's plea was even more pointed, and sometimes profane.

Senator Frank Andrews (R-Hillman) said the governor "has offered to trade an apple for an orchard."

Speaker of the House Victor A. Knox (R-Sault Ste. Marie) virtually broke up Williams' peace conference by asking:

"Do I understand you would veto a two-cent gas tax increase, or a one-and-a-half cent one?"

"I would," Williams replied.

"Good day, sir," Knox said, stalking out.

Federal Taxes Jump In Canada

Cigarette Levy Up 3 Cents A Pack

OTTAWA — (AP) — A sweeping jump in Canada's federal taxes, averaging around 16 per cent, was proposed last night by Finance Minister Douglas Abbott in his 1951-52 preparedness budget.

The main provisions included a boost in the general sales tax from eight to 10 per cent and an overall 20 per cent hoist in the income tax rate.

As a result commodity prices will go up on everything the average Canadian buys except food, fuel, building materials and machinery for farming, fishing and industry, all of which are exempt from the sales tax.

Abbott estimated revenue for the 1951-52 fiscal year would hit $3,730,000,000 as against $3,105,300,000 in 1950-51. He budgeted expenditures at $3,700,000,000, against $2,901,844,000 this year.

Here are some of the new levies:

Cigarettes—Up three cents a pack. Tobacco up an equivalent amount, but cigar tax unchanged.

Special excise tax on automobiles, radios, jewelry and other luxuries—from 15 to 25 per cent.

Tax on corporation profits of more than $10,000—boosted to 45.6 per cent from 38 per cent.

Bill Forbids Hunters To Leave Scene Of Shooting In Woods

LANSING — (AP) — Legislation was filed in the House today to forbid a hunter to leave the scene of a shooting accident in which he was involved.

The bill, filed by Rep. Robert M. Montgomery (R-Lansing), would require any hunter who injures another person with a firearm or bow and arrow to remain at the scene, render assistance, and give his name and address.

The bill also would require the hunter involved to report the accident to the nearest state police or sheriff's office. Violations would be punished by maximum penalties of $1,000 fine and two years in jail.

Recording Of Phone Talks Outrageous, President Declares

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The White House said today President Truman thinks it is "outrageous" that Senator Tobey (R-NH) has recorded telephone conversations with the President.

Truman Fires MacArthur For Bucking UN Strategy

Canned Commander Gets News Without 'Turning A Hair'

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Russell Brines, AP bureau chief in Tokyo, was captured in Manila when that city fell to the Japanese. He returned to covering General MacArthur in the Philippines campaign and remained with the general throughout the rest of the Pacific war and the occupation of Japan.)

By RUSSELL BRINES
TOKYO — (AP) — General MacArthur received the news of dismissal from all his commands today "magnificently and without turning a hair."

Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, military secretary of the United Nations command, told newsmen MacArthur would have no comment "for the time." He added: "I just left the general. He received the word of the president's dismissal from command magnificently. He never turned a hair. His soldierly qualities were never more pronounced."

"This has been his finest hour," the firing of MacArthur, by President Truman, came with the drama and irony which has marked the five-star general's 47 years of active military life.

Dramatic Touch Again
Even in defeat, he added another precedent to a career studded with them—the first dismissal of history's first United Nations commander.

The general with the dramatic touch went out under circumstances more like the stage than war. His notice came without warning during a quiet luncheon at his home.

Today, at the apparent end of a career which has included two temporary but bitter military defeats, the 71-year-old general was relieved without a public hint of criticism for his military ability. To the old soldier, that fact must have been comforting.

From the day, in 1903, that he graduated at the top of his West Point class, MacArthur never has been away from military affairs.

He retired from the U. S. Army in 1937, then spent the next four years as field marshal of the Philippines trying to build a defense force. He returned to active duty with the U. S. Army in 1941, just before the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, and has remained in uniform since then.

Never Wore Medals
MacArthur was named a general of the army Dec. 18, 1944. It, like most of his other top appointments, was by a Democratic president.

He never wore his medals. But he had them all, including the

New State Fair Site Proposed

Plans For Move To MSC Revived

LANSING — (AP) — Long-debated plans for abandoning the Michigan State Fair at Detroit and setting up a new one at Michigan State College spread again in the senate today.

The chamber delayed for a week a bill to revamp control of the present fair, pending a decision on the older idea, several times rejected by the legislature.

Key senators said they had approached Michigan State College with the idea of establishing a fall agricultural exposition to take the place of the state fair in Detroit. Awaiting the college's reply, they said that if the college agreed to the idea, the state fairgrounds would be sold.

The bill now before the senate would give the board of fair managers year-around control of the fairgrounds. Now it is divided with the state department of agriculture, creating dissension and confusion.

First Ore Carrier Docks At Duluth After Fighting Ice

DULUTH, Minn. — (AP) — The SS Voorhees became the first iron ore boat to reach port here this spring, tying up at the Two Harbors docks shortly after 9 o'clock last night.

The other vessels, the Sloan and Steelton, were plowing through heavy slush ice into the harbor.

Another dozen ore ships now westbound on Lake Superior should have no difficulty getting into the Duluth-Superior, Wis., ports, Capt. Dwight H. Dexter, commander of the icebreaker Mackinac, reported.

At least nine of the vessels, seven ore boats and two grain haulers, were expected here early today to open officially the Great Lakes navigation season.

House Set Against UMT In Draft Bill

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON — (AP) — A House apparently dead set against universal military training may decide today whether it wants even a skeleton of UMT in a draft extension bill.

The showdown will come on a substitute to the administration's already dehorned universal military training and service (UMTS) bill. It combines extension and tightening of the draft with establishment of the framework for UMT. Under the administration plan UMT would come into being when the present emergency military buildup ends.

Committee sponsored amendments thumpingly approved in a drive for a decisive test left the UMT provisions this way:

1. A national security training corps—UMT with a different name—would be established. But youths could not be inducted to serve in it until Congress passed a separate law spelling out details

Loss Of 5-Star Hero Branded 'Tragic Error'

Congress Critics Tie Into President

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Congressional Republicans, angered by President Truman's firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, talked of "possible impeachments" today and got the general's agreement to address a joint session of Senate and House.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska and Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, the GOP floor leaders, talked to MacArthur by trans-Pacific telephone.

Invited To Speak

Martin announced to the House: "I am authorized to say that General MacArthur would be delighted to have an invitation to speak" to a joint session. He added that MacArthur "can be here in about three weeks."

Martin introduced a resolution calling for an invitation to MacArthur to address Congress.

Wherry prepared a similar one for the Senate.

What the Democrats would do about this move was not immediately clear. Some would have to support it in order for such an invitation to be voted.

Many of them would like to hear MacArthur's version of his controversy with the administration which led President Truman to fire him summarily early this morning as the Far Eastern commander.

But inviting MacArthur to air his views at a joint Senate-House session is a different matter than

Errant Son, 28, Slain By Father

Detroit Parent Says He Had To Shoot

DETROIT — (AP) — A father shot and killed his son before the eyes of the latter's mother, sister and estranged wife last night.

Police said the father later declared all the family had lived in fear of the son because drink made him terrible.

George Taylor, 54, the father, was held for investigation.

Detective Harold Cooper said that Taylor, a tool maker, admitted shooting his son, Harry 28, with a newly purchased revolver.

Present were the mother, Mrs. Carrie Taylor; a sister, Carol, 18, and the son's estranged wife, Ruth, 31. A brother is in the army in Korea.

The elder Taylor, according to Cooper, said his son invaded the home and threatened to "kill us" if his wife did not leave with him.

"I had to shoot," the father said.

The son, a husky truck driver, had a police record of questioning in assault and battery cases although no convictions.

His wife said she had left him after frequent drunken beatings.

General Relieved Of All His Duties; Ridgway New Chief

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman fired Gen. Douglas MacArthur today on grounds he failed to support—and publicly sought to change—the grand strategy of the United Nations war against Red aggression in Korea.

In a sensational statement released at the White House at 1 a. m. (E.S.T.) after days of soul-searching and indecision, the President announced:

"With deep regret I have concluded that General of the Army Douglas MacArthur is unable to give his wholehearted support to the policies of the United States government and of the United Nations in matters pertaining to his official duties."

No Time Lost
Acting with lightning speed on that conclusion, once he had reached it, the President:

1. Relieved the 71-year-old MacArthur of his four-fold duties as supreme Allied occupation commander in Japan; United Nations commander in chief for Korea; United States commander in chief for the Far East; and commanding general of the United States Army in the Far East.

2. Named Lieut. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, field commander in Korea, to succeed MacArthur in all these commands. That means Ridgway not only will direct the U. N. campaign in Korea but also wind up the Japanese occupation, assuming peace treaty plans go through.

3. Named Lieut. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the Second Army at Fort George G. Meade, Md., to take over the Eighth Army command in Korea from Ridgway.

4. Issued a set of secret messages exchanged between MacArthur and the joint chiefs of staff here. The evident aim was to show that MacArthur had scorned successive Washington directives to clear air of his policy with either the state or defense departments.

Mac Too Persistent
The order relieving MacArthur of command was Mr. Truman's answer to the General's persistent campaign of public statements to get the United States to follow a different policy in the Far East and especially, with its U. N. Allies, in the Korean war.

Essentially he has advocated expanding the war to include direct attacks on Red China. He has presented Asia rather than Europe as the critical theater of conflict with aggressive Communism.

His dismissal amounts to re-

Hollywood Red Intrigue Hunted

Film Stars Called To Witness Chair

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Screen actor Will Geer said today it was all "ancient history" and refused to tell the House Un-American Activities committee if he was or ever had been a Communist.

The grey haired, gum chewing witness, also stood on his constitutional privilege against answering questions which might tend to incriminate him.

When committee counsel Frank Tavenner, Jr., asked Geer what he was doing in 1942, Geer grinned and said he was "campaigning for Wendell Wilkie"—the Republican presidential candidate.

Movie star Sterling Hayden, brawny former marine, corps hero, readily told the committee yesterday he joined the party in 1946 in Hollywood to fulfill an emotional desire to "do something for a better world" after the war.

He quit six months later, he said, disillusioned over a rigid belief of Communists they alone "knew what is best for everyone."

Hayden told the committee yesterday he joined the party in June of 1946 and "got out" in December the same year.

OPS Officials Coming Monday Will Explain Rules At Public Meeting

Ceiling price regulations affecting household goods and food service will be explained at two public meetings to be held at Rooms 201 and 202 at the Escanaba Junior high school at 7:30 Monday evening, April 16.

Jack Welt, retail price specialist, and Carl I. Berger, restaurant specialist of the Office of Price Stabilization, Grand Rapids, will be the speakers.

Welt will discuss ceiling price regulation, amendment 2, which controls prices on radios, television sets, phonographs, electrical appliances, housewares, sporting goods, jewelry, watches, dinnerware, glassware and silverware.

Berger will explain ceiling price regulation 11, which fixes price ceilings for restaurants, taverns, bars and soda fountains.

Persons attending the meetings are advised to use the 16th street entrance to the junior high school building.

The meetings were arranged by the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce to acquaint business men with the OPS regulations.

Gustafson Opposes Plan To Investigate Delta's Top-Heavy Welfare Load

Vigorous opposition by Supervisor Harold F. Gustafson of Ensign township, chairman of the Delta board of supervisors, yesterday caused withdrawal of a proposal to investigate the county's direct relief case load.

C. W. Stoll, Escanaba supervisor and chairman of the finance committee, withdrew the proposal but warned that he would submit it to the board again at its June meeting.

Delta county in January, 1951, had a total of 424 direct relief cases, largest case load in Michigan except for seven more populous counties.

Asks For Investigator

Last year Delta county appropriated $65,000 and the townships gave $15,000, a total of $80,000 for welfare.

"It is the opinion of the finance committee that until the welfare cost went above $50,000 a year it was fair and equitable," Stoll said.

Stoll moved adoption of a proposal to have the county pay up to $500 for the services of a special investigator who would be employed by and cooperate with the Delta County Social Welfare board in checking the direct relief cases.

Says Not Needed

The proposal would also have authorized the welfare committee of the board of supervisors to "sit in with the welfare board and examine every case on the welfare list."

Supervisor Chairman Gustafson, an ex-officio member of the Welfare board, voiced immediate opposition to the proposed special investigator.

"A special investigator is not needed," Gustafson said. "To me, the proposal indicates that something is wrong in the welfare department. I have sat in with them for the past three years and I do not believe it."

Chiseling Admitted

Admitting that "chisellers" existed on the relief rolls, Gustafson said every effort is being made to weed them out and that several have been brought into court and other cases reviewed by representatives of the state welfare commission.

Gustafson defended the direct relief case load in Delta county, for many months the highest or next-highest in the Upper Peninsula.

"As your chairman and your representative on the welfare commission, I know there are chisellers," Gustafson said. "I learned a few days ago there have been six clients taken into court by the commission according to the last report."

Good Welfare Job

"The welfare commission meets twice a month, sometimes twice a week," Gustafson continued. "Of that case load of 424 in January, you should know that Delta is one of the few counties in the state that supplements old age assistance. If we spend even $2 for a bottle of medicine on any old age client, that case goes on record as a direct relief case. I believe there were about 220, not 424, actual direct relief cases in January."

Dickinson and Menominee and other counties do not supplement old age assistance, Gustafson said. "Assistance is given here on a formula, not a bargain basis," he said. "The state commission recognizes the Delta welfare commission is doing a good job. It may mean we spend more, but we believe it is worthwhile."

County Pays 15 Percent

Stoll countered with the information that if the high case load could be accounted for by supplemental aid to old age clients, it must be costly because in January Delta county spent $36,000 for direct relief, the sixth highest cost for any county in the state.

"It would take a lot of $2 bottles of medicine to make up that total," Stoll asserted. "For comparison, Menominee county spent $3,500 to our $36,000 for direct relief in January."

Gustafson said Delta county is required to pay 15 per cent to the state's 85 per cent contribution for the welfare program in the county. Dickinson county has been put on a 50-50 basis, he added.

"I consider that a penalty on them by the state," he said. "We could cut down our program here but we would be checked by the state on our 15-85 per cent basis."

Cites Case History

Stoll said he understood the welfare commission and its director, A. M. Gilbert, were under pressure from the state commission and from the clients. The welfare commission should welcome the assistance of the supervisors and a special investigator, Stoll said.

"I recall giving Mr. Gilbert two names of reported relief chisellers last fall," Stoll continued. "One of those names got relief totaling $150 a month for himself and his family. He was taken off after a check on the case by the welfare department."

"Since then that man has gone to work," Stoll continued. "In the past three months he has been paid a total of $861 in earnings and out of this has maintained his family and paid off $400 in old bills."

Gustafson for "Sit In"

Stoll said he cited the history of that case to prove the need for closer investigation of direct relief cases.

Gustafson said he opposed the motion calling for a special investigator but would go along on the plan to have the welfare committee of the supervisors "sit in" with the welfare commission at their meetings.

Supervisor Carl B. Johnson, Escanaba, member of the supervisors' welfare committee, said "we could sit in there for three months and never learn anything about the welfare cases and have nothing to report back." He said a special investigator is the only way to get information.

Fears State Action

Gustafson advised the supervisors that while they might check on individual cases in their townships, they could not be supplied with lists of relief clients.

Stoll commented on the high relief load "in these good times" and wondered "what will happen if hard times should come to Delta county."

Gustafson said the Delta welfare commission budget for the ensuing year is now being prepared to submit to the state commission. He said he feared "the matter of a special investigator might set them on their ears and easily change that 15-85 per cent ratio for the county."

Stoll thereupon withdrew his motion and said it might be better to bring the proposal before the June meeting of the supervisors.

Bus Hearing Here April 18

Iron River-Escanaba Route Is Proposed

Application of the Iron Mountain-Kingsford Transit Lines for a permit to operate a bus between Iron River and Escanaba, meeting the North Western's "400" streamliner at Powers, will be heard by the Michigan state public service commission starting at 9:30 a. m., (EST), Wednesday, April 18, in the city hall at Escanaba.

Notice of the hearing was received by Frank Butts, Iron Mountain, proprietor of the Transit Lines, who submitted the application some time ago. A week ago Tuesday the Greyhound lines abandoned the route after operating a bus between Iron River and Escanaba for 60 days, at a reported loss. Butts' application had been pending while Greyhound was operating the route on a trial basis.

Butts said that he is prepared to show the state commission that he can operate a bus over the line profitably and at a rate which will encourage use of the bus.

Since the proprietor must show public necessity, Butts urged that a delegation of Iron Mountain-Kingsford business men be organized to attend the hearing, and be ready to attest as to the need for the service.

"Now that there is no carrier service whatever, to connect with the '400' at Powers, the people of this community should be willing to help us establish the bus route," Butts said. "We have worked out a schedule which, we are sure, will prove both convenient and popular. But we will need some help at Escanaba. We hope our friends will assist us."

Blind Triplet Boys, 3, Examined in Boston

BOSTON — (AP) — One city must be pretty much like any other for the small Terry triplets — born blind three years ago next Sunday — but things may be different for them in Boston.

Larry, Harry and Barry Terry arrived by plane here from their Stearns, Ky., home via Cincinnati and New York.

In Boston they will be examined to determine if there is any hope of restoring their sight. If there isn't, they will undergo treatment at the Boston nursery for the blind to make them as near normal as possible. The boys' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Terry, have eight other children.

Conflicting Stories In History Of Harris Case

Contradiction rather than clarification marked yesterday's effort of the Delta board of supervisors to learn the facts in the Harris reckless driving case.

Information presented to the board by Prosecutor J. Clyde McGonagle; Roger Williams, who charges the prosecution of Harris was delayed and has so informed the attorney general; and Atty. William Miller, counsel for Harris, the defendant in the reckless driving case, was contradictory on the most important facts.

Williams directed public attention to the Harris case last week in a letter to the Escanaba Daily Press.

Says Case Pending

Joseph Harris, 36, of Wilson was arrested April 19, 1950, and charged with reckless driving in connection with an auto collision that damaged the car of Roger Williams, driven by Williams' son.

According to records in the office of the sheriff's department, Harris was released the day after his arrest.

Justice Henry Ranguette of Escanaba reported to the Daily Press that the case has not been disposed of and that it was delayed because of negotiations between Prosecutor McGonagle and Atty. Miller, counsel for Harris.

Yesterday members of the board of supervisors questioned Prosecutor McGonagle concerning the case.

Williams was requested to present his side of the case to the supervisors.

Was It Dismissed?

Atty. Miller, present because of his interest in the controversy, interjected when his name was mentioned by Williams and he and Williams heatedly disputed each other.

Wildest variance in information presented to the board was on the following points:

Williams told the board that Harris was released on bond for his appearance in court.

Atty. Miller said Harris was released on his own recognizance.

Prosecutor McGonagle said a hearing was set for Harris to answer to the reckless driving charge. Harris was there but Williams and his son did not appear.

Williams said that he was never notified by the prosecutor or the court that Harris was to be arraigned and that he and his son were also to appear.

Atty. Miller said the charge against Harris was "dismissed weeks, months ago."

Prosecutor McGonagle did not mention any dismissal of the case or that it was no longer pending in justice court, but named several reasons for the delay in disposing of the case.

Williams told the board that he had been "given a dozen different excuses" by the prosecutor and once was told by the prosecutor that "the case was settled out of court between himself and Mr. Miller." On another occasion the prosecutor was quoted by Williams as saying "justice court has no jurisdiction in this case."

Prosecutor McGonagle and Attorney Miller both said Miller was "interested" in collecting damages for his damaged auto.

Williams said he was not trying to collect damages from Harris "but to see that justice was done on the reckless driving charge."

The debate between Williams and Atty. Miller before the board of supervisors concluded with the following exchange:

Williams: "No one at any time notified me when to be in justice court. This is a reckless driving charge against Harris, not against me. Why don't they send an officer to pick him up?"

Atty. Miller: "I'm not the prosecutor. I'm not speaking for the prosecutor."

Delta's Valuation Is Raised To $28,111,835

Delta county's total equalized valuation in real and personal property today stands at a new high of $28,111,835, as established by the board of supervisors in meeting yesterday.

The total is $1,035,380 above last year, with the increase distributed among most of the townships and the cities of Escanaba and Gladstone.

The board equalizes the valuations among the 14 townships and two cities to establish a base on which to levy county taxes.

Although increased by more than $1 million, the total is still far below the state equalized valuation of $32,600,000 set for Delta last year by the state tax commission.

Largest increase for any of the units in the county was a boost of $590,340 for the city of Escanaba, although increases in other units were nearly comparable in relationship to total value in the unit. Escanaba's valuation is slightly less than 50 per cent of the county's total.

Last year's equalized valuation by units and the new figures established yesterday by the board for 1951 are as follows:

Township or City	1950	1951
Baldwin	$578,300	$572,800
Bark River	922,350	934,825
Bay de Noc	269,340	273,890

Many Dangers In Basements

Accidents Stalk In Dwellings

The ghosts of accidents stalk in the basement as well as in other rooms of the house.

The bottom step of the basement stairs is to blame for a surprising number of falls, says David Steinicke, extension safety specialist at Michigan State College. Often members of the family fall from the lowest step thinking they are on the floor. This hazard can be reduced by painting the floor at the bottom with white or luminous paint so it will catch the eye.

Good lighting in the stairs will also help, with a two-way switch at both top and bottom of the staircase. Until good lighting is installed, a flashlight kept handy near the top step is a safety measure.

Hazards of the main staircase are multiplied on the steps leading to the basement. In many homes basement stairs are the catchall for jars, canned goods, waste baskets, brooms and mops that may cause a fatal plunge to the cement floor below.

Sometimes basement stairs are too steep, treads too narrow, steps cheaply or loosely built. Rebuild stairs when necessary and install a solid handrail, low enough for children, as a safety measure, urge Steinicke.

Youths 'Borrow' Car For Afternoon Trip To Menominee

Arthur March, 19, Rte. 1, Bark River, and two minors, all Escanaba high school students, have been picked up by local police for unlawfully driving away a new automobile owned by Carl W. Benzinger, 1416 Second avenue south.

March will be charged with unlawfully driving away the automobile, without intent to steal, local police reported this morning. The two minors, whose names are withheld by the Press because they are under the age of justice court jurisdiction, will be referred to juvenile court.

Barber Shop Singers Will Elect Chapter Officers Thursday

Escanaba chapter, SPEBSQSA, will hold their annual election of officers at a regular meeting Thursday night at the Eagles hall. A report will be submitted by the nominating committee appointed last week. The newly elected officers will take over their duties in July.

The local singers are working on a new repertoire for their annual "harvest of harmony" show, which will be presented Oct. 20. Ken Thompson, general chairman for the Fall concert, has announced that the famed Interludes quartet of Midland, Mich., will be one of the featured attractions. Negotiations are under way for three other stellar outside quartets to be included in the show.

Next Thursday, April 19, the chorus will meet at Gladstone for their annual ladies night and smelt fry at the Gladstone yacht club.

Tanker Unloads Kipling Cargo

Gasoline Storage Tanks Refilled

The tanker Orion, of East Chicago, arrived at the Theisen-Clemens dock at Kipling last night with the first boatload of gasoline and fuel oil of the 1951 season.

The tanker discharged a cargo of regular gasoline, ethyl gasoline and fuel oil into the big storage tanks at the Kipling dock.

Although the Kipling harbor is still ice choked, a channel to the dock was cut by a Coast Guard cutter.

Smelt Spawning Runs Delayed

But Jamboree Will Be Held Saturday

The smelt are not running yet, but the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce and the city recreation department are going ahead with their plans for the Escanaba Smelt Jamboree on Saturday, April 14.

Sponsors of the jamboree are putting their trust in the "old Escanaba luck" which has always produced smelt at festival time in the past. The silvery fish usually have begun their spawning runs the first week of April, but the nightly migration upstream appears to have been retarded this year by cold weather.

Fox Movietone News announced yesterday that a news reel cameraman will be sent from Chicago to cover the jamboree and smelt dipping activities. He will arrive late Friday with Tom Shafer, Acme Newspictures photographer, Dick Joiner, outdoors writer of the Chicago Tribune, and Tony Weitzel, columnist of the Chicago Daily News.

The C&NW will run a special train from Chicago to Escanaba Saturday afternoon. It is scheduled to arrive at 4:30 p. m. A parade will form at the C&NW station and proceed through the business district.

A meeting of all the jamboree committees will be held at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce offices at 7 Thursday night to complete plans for Saturday's celebration.

Sharon Rehired As Spalding Twp. School Chief

POWERS —William J. Sharon has been reelected superintendent of the Spalding township school district and has been tendered a three-year contract to expire on July 1, 1954. His present contract expires next July.

Sharon has been head of the Spalding township schools since July 20, 1946, after his return to civilian life following World War II service in the U. S. Navy. His five years have been stormy ones at Powers-Spalding but have also witnessed the greatest school plant development program in the district's history.

The new $300,000 Powers-Spalding school building which is nearing completion will eventually house all of the township's 481 school children. All of them are now in the new building except the primary grade children and it is planned to move the letter group to the new building before the end of the present school term.

To Check Bills Against County

Activities Reports Also Requested

Heads of Delta county departments who turn in bills for payment by the county must in the future submit to the claims and accounts committee a statement of the materials received and how they are used for county purposes, the board of supervisors decided yesterday.

The double-check system on claims was recommended by the board's finance committee.

Supervisor C. W. Stoll, finance committee chairman, said investigation of bills had disclosed that one was on work on a radio not owned by the county, and the other a bill for a "thank you" advertisement for a county official following his election.

Sup. E. W. Carlson of Perkins, chairman of the claims and accounts committee, advised the board that the bill for the "thank you" advertisement had not been signed by Sheriff William E. Miron.

"The sheriff said that claim was not submitted by him and the signature on it was not his," Sup. Carlson said.

Sup. Stoll pointed out that he had not intended to name the county office.

The board also followed the recommendation of the finance committee in increasing the rate of payment to the sheriff for meals to prisoners. The rate is now $1.25 per day per prisoner. This will be increased to 50 cents per meal.

"Payment will be made only for meals actually served and the sheriff will submit a monthly report to the claims and accounts committee showing a list of the prisoners and the meals served them," Stoll said.

An activities report of the sheriff and his deputies, prepared daily, and an activities report of the county agricultural agent will also be asked by the claims and accounts committee in support of claims submitted for payment.

contractor who was awarded the job on his low bid of $89,290. George Rapette, secretary of the school board, said Arntzen told him he expected to start moving in construction equipment today and work would start as soon as the contract was signed formally.

The board awarded the electrical work to Nantell Electric company of Escanaba, which submitted a low bid of $3,925.

The heating contract went to another low bidder, Upper Peninsula Heating and Power company of Gladstone on a bid of $10,912.

Rapette said the plumbing contract had not been awarded but decision is expected to be made at a special meeting of the board tonight.

Gothard Arntzen of Escanaba is architect for the township school board.

Sort Out Your Old Clothes For Boy Scout Collection Saturday

L YING unused in thousands of homes in the Escanaba Daily Press circulation area are huge quantities of wearable clothing. Much of it has been outgrown by the owners or has been antiquated by new fashions. Today it is merely gathering dust and using wardrobe space.

Throughout the world, however, are unfortunate people, impoverished by the aftermath of war, cold and hungry. Our great nation has already made tremendous contributions in wealth and material to alleviate the suffering of these people.

But we can do more. The Boy Scouts of America are conducting a nationwide campaign to collect used clothing to be forwarded to the needy people of the world. In Escanaba collections will be made next Saturday, April 14, and Scouts in Bark River, Hermansville and Rapid River will also make house-to-house collections on that day. Collection plans for Gladstone and Manistique have not yet been completed but will be announced soon.

Check through your wardrobe and your clothes closets. You may be amazed to learn the considerable amount of good, usable clothing that you have in your home and that you know you will never wear again. Sort it out and call the Boy Scouts, phone 1936, and ask them to pick it up Saturday.

You'll make a lot of personal satisfaction in the knowledge that you are making a solid contribution to less fortunate people, and in the realization that your gifts will contribute to international friendship.

Flat Rock To Have New Central School

C ONTRACTS have been let by the Escanaba township board of education for a new central grade school to be erected near the town hall location.

The project is scheduled for completion next fall. Its completion will mean the closing of one and two-room schools that have been in use in the Flat Rock community the past three to five decades.

With its decision to erect a new building following a national trend that has been in progress for some years. The old-fashioned one-room school is steadily passing out of the educational picture.

Good roads and bus transportation each year are bringing more rural students to centralized or consolidated schools, where the boys and girls are offered educational advantages more on a par with those offered in urban communities. The one room school has some good points, but the disadvantages have been found to far outweigh the advantages.

When the new grade school building is completed, Escanaba township children will have better equipment to work with, new recreational and library facilities, and improved teaching schedules. They are going to get a better break.

Newspapers Expected To Publish The News

A LMOST every day the Escanaba Daily Press carries news stories concerning drunken and reckless drivers, burglars and types of criminals.

Such crime news, we know, causes heartaches in the homes of those who have run afoul of the law. But it is the newspaper's responsibility to publish the news, so that honest, law-abiding citizens can be protected against crimes and so others will be discouraged from pursuing criminal careers.

The blame for crime news in the first place rests with those who commit the crimes. The newspaper only records their acts.

The Escanaba Daily Press does not believe any good purpose is served in publishing all the unsavory details of criminal cases. But it does believe it is a newspaper's duty to let the public know who the criminals are in a community and what disposition has been made of their cases.

A newspaper's primary function is to publish the news.

IRANIAN OIL

(Christian Science Monitor)
Iranian oil is more than a British chestnut. The entire western defense community must look with concern on any changes in Iran's laws which would make western access to that country's oil uncertain. At the same time, and for the same reasons, those economic and social conditions which lend extra force to extremism are a concern of all who have associated themselves in an effort to check Communist expansion.

The lower House of the Iranian Parliament has just voted unanimously in favor of nationalizing the Iranian oil industry. This move has followed closely on the assassination of a premier who was holding out against nationalization. Now the British are warning Iran that the contract between the Iranian government and the Anglo-Iranian Oil company cannot be terminated by action of one party to it and that it has many years to run.

Much of this is reminiscent of earlier chapters in the history of raw-material-producing countries whose resources have been developed by foreign capital. But there appears no hint of gunboats or military expeditions here, only a warning that Britain may take the issue to the World Court.

The Iranian government has not gone Communist by any means. Iran's very independence, indeed, rests on success of western measures to curb the spread of Communist violence. So it should not be impossible to reach some workable plan to keep Iranian oil on the side of democracy.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—At two cabinet meetings in the past three weeks, General MacArthur's unauthorized policy statements have come in for important, even heated discussion.

Most heated debate was not last week but immediately after MacArthur's pre-Easter statement of March 24, in which he proposed a peace meeting with Chinese military commanders.

At this cabinet meeting the president remarked that he was sorry he hadn't fired MacArthur last summer—following his out-of-line statement to the Veterans of Foreign Wars. What aroused the president's heat just before Easter was that MacArthur's peace statement was one which Truman himself was planning to make.

What happened was that the joint chiefs of staff had cabled MacArthur, for his perusal and personal reaction, a copy of an Easter appeal for peace which the state department had already discussed with the British and French and which Truman planned to issue publicly.

But, without a word to Washington, MacArthur made the statement himself. Part of his text was almost verbatim with that sent him by the joint chiefs, though his threat to bomb Chinese bases was entirely his own.

MACARTHUR'S POLITICAL RECORD

Naturally Washington boiled.

Next day, Secretary of Defense Marshall sent MacArthur a personal cable ordering him to clear all future policy statements with him. That cable was dated March 25, and MacArthur's letter to Ex-Speaker Joe Martin was dated March 20, so technically at least MacArthur is in the clear.

In the eyes of the defense department, however, he is not. For on Dec. 5, 1950, confidential orders were sent to all military commanders to clear all policy statements with the defense department in Washington. Furthermore, MacArthur has had a history of jumping the traces, some of which is well-known, some not, but all of which has made relations between him and his commander-in-chief more strained than at any time in recent American history. Here is the record:

Jump No. 1—In December, 1949, MacArthur let off steam to a group of Republican senators visiting him in Tokyo about sending U. S. arms and troops to Formosa. This teed off the running debate between the administration and the China bloc in Congress over Chinese intervention which continued for months.

Jump No. 2—In the spring of 1950, MacArthur took an unauthorized trip to Formosa, got a lot of publicity kissing Madame Chiang Kai-shek's hand, and openly discussed the idea of building up Formosa as a base. This was in complete contradiction of the government's policy, and he obviously knew it.

Jump No. 3—After we got into the Korean war, MacArthur sent his famous letter to the Veterans of Foreign Wars regarding the use of Formosa as a base. He was reprimanded by Truman.

Wake Island—It was around this time that Averell Harriman, special representative of the president, went to Tokyo to soothe the general's fur. At this time Harriman got MacArthur's solemn promise to make no more policy statements without clearing them with Washington.

TRUMAN IS CHARMED

Following this, Truman made his special pilgrimage to confer with MacArthur on Wake Island. When he first arrived he was a little non-plused by the way the general strolled nonchalantly down to the runway—a little late—to meet him; and by the fact that MacArthur failed to salute his commander-in-chief. He was also disappointed that MacArthur's accompanying party consisted chiefly of his personal doctor, his valet and Ambassador Muccio, whereas Truman had brought the chairman of the joint chiefs of staff and a group of experts prepared to discuss important Far Eastern problems.

It was because MacArthur brought no experts to discuss anything that the conference was so abbreviated.

However, during their brief time together, MacArthur charmed Truman completely and the president came away singing his praises.

Jump No. 4—Came during MacArthur's November drive into North Korea. This was only a partial jump-over-the-traces, because Truman had given him the green light to dash up to the Manchurian border. However, on more than three occasions the state department relayed warnings that the Chinese were about to attack—one from the French, one from India and several from the British.

It was against this background of almost weekly friction between Washington and Tokyo that the cabinet seethed last week and this week over MacArthur's more recent trace-jumping.

Survey Shows Crime Still Feels Kefauver Impact In Most Cities

By NEA Service

Organized crime is still feeling the heat of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee's spotlight in most of the cities visited in the committee's dramatic cross-country tour.

A survey by NEA Service shows that in only one of those cities did officials and public alike brush off the hearings as a good show—but nothing to remember. And in that city gambling—the bankroll of today's organized crime—is a legal institution.

Elsewhere, the public is still in there swinging—and the racketeers are still ducking. In Detroit, labor went to work to keep the committee's disclosures in the public eye. Miami had its first "clean" season in a decade. In St. Louis and Kansas City, there were political upsets. On the West Coast, the California legislature hustled through action on a new crime commission.

Here are some of the details, as reported to NEA Service by newspaper editors or their top crime reporters in key cities:

From Hoke Welch, managing editor of the Miami Daily News: Business in this South Florida resort area has been better than ever since the Kefauver committee chased out the hoodlums comprising two major crime syndicates and forced a shutdown of every gambling casino in the state.

For the first time in nearly a decade, South Florida went through a winter season without wide-open gambling operations. But it was a long, tough job—not only for the senator's crime fighters who first showed up here just one year ago this month, but also for the Miami Daily News. The Daily News started hammering away at gangster activities from the first day the late Scarface Al Capone showed up at Miami Beach in the early 1930s.

From Norman E. Isaacs, managing editor, St. Louis Star-Times: St. Louis has had its first test of the impact of the Kefauver committee hearings. It was a smashing defeat at the polls for the group associated in the public mind with bookies and gamblers. In many ways it was a spectacular demonstration of a public uprising against a political faction which had allowed itself to become allied with the so-called criminal element.

Something had stirred the huge, inert independent vote. That "something," it was clear, was the Kefauver committee's dramatization of the alliance between politics and crime. Will it last? Nobody can predict that. But a fair guess would be that it probably will last long enough to sweep out a good many of the disreputable characters who sneaked into office by virtue of public apathy. For the time being, there is no public indifference from.

From Louis Seltzer, editor of the Cleveland Press: Cleveland appears to be a paradox among the big cities visited by the Kefauver committee. Here live a disproportionately large percentage of those disclosed by the committee to be high in the national crime and gambling syndicates. But in their "home town," they operate relatively little, and make this their "headquarters" for "bankrolling" operations throughout the country. There was no testimony on local conditions that might bring greater citizen pressure for cleaning up than was in effect before the committee arrived.

Currently a band of corrupt police officers who have permitted gambling joints to operate in half a dozen spots are under fire. The town's pressure is focused steadily at them so the really big-time operators have to seek more profitable ventures elsewhere.

From Al Ostrow, San Francisco News: Illegal gambling is still a multi-million dollar industry in these parts—and still going full blast, although a few big operations have been seriously cramped. The prostitution racket and narcotics traffic are booming, too.

Despite this situation, the Kefauver committee has chalked up a lot of California accomplishments. Under its prodding the Justice Department has slightly speeded up handling of racket tax cases. Several scandals in the Internal Revenue Bureau were aired. The boom was lowered on commercialized "bridge," a tricky variation of bingo which had become a big money racket in Southern California.

Public opinion was so aroused on the subject of rackets that a formerly controversial proposal to establish a new state crime commission was quickly enacted by the state legislature with little opposition.

From Robert S. Ball, Detroit News: Within a week after the Senate Crime committee left Detroit, things began to happen. The UAW-CIO went on the air with a nightly broadcast detailing the testimony of persons prominently in industry and labor.

The City Council initiated action toward creation of a State Crime Commission. There was a cry for restoration of the state's one-man grand jury law, repealed two years ago, which had been instrumental in rooting out vice and corruption. There was, as a positive result of the Senate committee's visit, a civic reawakening which may prove highly beneficial.

From John F. Cahlan, editor, Las Vegas, Nev., Review-Journal: The local citizens forgot about Senator Kefauver and his committee the day after he left last November because while he was here he apparently had not hit the stride he later developed when the "big fellows" came under investigation.

The senator and his committee didn't make much of an impression because he attempted to tie something illegal into a business that had been legalized by the state legislature many years ago—1922 to be exact.

Letters From The People

Mrs. Bonifas Legacy

Dear Editor: During the war years we bragged often and thoroughly about Escanaba not so much about the city itself but about the fine people who were living there. We thought we were speaking truly.

To us the word "fine" has the old connotation. Fine people are idealistic, not materialistic, neighborly, tolerant, independent and wholesome. If they receive a gift they strive unceasingly to make equal return or in fuller measure. Two years ago, Catherine Bonifas, now a beloved memory, willed this city her vast estate—TWO AND ONE HALF MILLION DOLLARS—given to the young the old, the rich and the poor—to every creed and denomination, to people she knew and to people she did not know because true charity includes everyone.

A wise man once said that man has three friends in this world, money, companions and works of mercy. At the hour of death, only one friend, benevolent charity is capable of accompanying and winning mercy and favor for him at the judgment seat.

Mrs. Bonifas was blessed with true wisdom. As a result her riches are yours and mine but her humble and personal wishes were not even considered worthy of fulfillment. The home she loved and cared for so fastidiously was to be the supreme gift to the city she remembered so generously. Since people could not visualize or appreciate the high purpose she had in mind when her home was entrusted to Marquette diocesan, it is the best way possible for the welfare of its recipients.

It is regrettable that lawyers, armed with profound legal lore, allowed their case to stand on the one point that had no reality. The Carmelite Order, made up of individuals who surpass all in education and culture, and whose lives are dedicated to "living" the ideals that others only pray and dream about, is the jewel of the sisterhoods. It is fitting that a precious jewel has an exquisite setting and so their garden would have become a gem of beauty in our midst.

It takes more than a legal demonstration to make this tragic episode anything but an ignoble event in the history of our fair city. To us this is the potent and specific example of a great trust given and betrayed.

To us Escanaba is the fairest city in the Upper Peninsula. We love the real people who live here. They and we take this opportunity to welcome the esteemed Carmelite Sisters to Iron Mountain and the Upper Peninsula. We wish them deep and abiding happiness in their new location. We assure them that if there is anything Escanaba friends of the Carmelites can do to demonstrate sincere interest and good wishes we will not be found wanting.

In closing, we voice a protest about this city accepting and using any part of this magnificent heritage until the donor's wish concerning her home (if anything can be arranged) is honored and carried out.

There is a lonely spot on the shores of Bay-de-Noc—a dream house that has not fulfilled its destiny. For this reason—we do not brag—as we so often did about our town and the people living in Escanaba.

Fair Players.

Good Evening ...

WAGES AND PRICES—Not being an economist we are probably unqualified to even comment on the subject of wages and prices. Things have become so specialized these days that the ordinary citizen hesitates in discussing how much he receives in pay and how far that money will go in providing the necessities of life for his family.

Members of organized labor have strength in unity and the advantage of paid individuals to represent them in dickers with their employers and the wage stabilization board.

It is the so-called white collar worker, the gentleman with a fixed income and no recourse except charity or the fairness of his employer who is now caught in the old economic squeeze.

Organized labor can and does care for its own. The worker outside organized ranks is on his own and usually gets the cold shoulder, politically and otherwise.

THE MEETING PLACE—There are millions of wage earners in the United States, caught in the wage and price spiral, who can do little or nothing to alleviate their own plight.

Ignored alike by employer and by government bureau, the white collar worker watches his take-home pay buying less and less as prices rise. Granted that rising prices indicate rising costs, it must be understood that higher costs are not of the white collar worker's doing. He gets no pay boosts, therefore he cannot be accused of adding to production costs.

There is a widening gap between the point where his income once met the expenses of his family. To talk of price control after prices are up is, in his case, locking the door after the horse is stolen.

THE MIDDLE CLASS—For the government to establish wage stabilization limiting pay increases granted workers is, in the case of the vast majority of white collar workers, creating a myth.

For millions of middle class-workers in offices have had no recent cost of living pay adjustments and cannot expect to receive any.

When they receive nothing to stabilize it is ironic to assume they are adequately paid because wage stabilization permits a percentage increase above last year. Unless the increase comes through, income cannot meet cost of living, and stabilization is for others.

BURDEN OF GOVERNMENT—Meanwhile the burden of taxes upon the individual wage earner is increasing with the years.

This burden applies to all and comes at the local, state and national levels. Part of this increasing burden is the result of cost of living wage increases granted those who work for government.

Again ironically, the white collar worker without benefit of wage adjustment must pay his share to help maintain the government workers in a style to which the government believes they are entitled.

This higher differential between wages paid by government and by the private employer of white collar help is one reason government jobs are always filled.

MAINTAINING A HOME—The average white collar worker wants, above everything, some degree of permanency.

A home and a family, a place in the community in which he lives, and the opportunity to do well by his children are his chief desires.

He is not inclined to move frequently, following industrial booms, or to chase a rainbow over greener pastures. He is a fixed asset on a fixed income.

Lacking a trade in the accepted sense of the word, unacquainted with the benefits of union organization, he puts down roots in his community and becomes an integral part of it.

An individualist, he has refused to submerge his identity to labor organizations. His case is unusual and his plight is real. Individually he carries little weight over the bargaining counter.

By force of circumstances he may have to turn to union organization—and the last large non-union segment in America will have fallen.

READERS WANT TO KNOW

Cleveland: I know that "she" is a feminine pronoun. A member of our club insists that "she" can be used as a noun. Can that be right?—Mrs. I. C. W.

A. Yes; Merriam Webster's and others list "she" also as a noun. Shakespeare wrote: "The fair, the chaste, and unexpressive she." Also: "Lady, you're the cruellest she alive."

Philadelphia: What is the difference between "crayfish" and "crawfish"?—M.P.D. Answer: There is no difference. Crayfish, pronounced KRAY-fish, is preferred in England. Crawfish, pronounced KRAW-fish, prevails in American usage. Crayfish, the older spelling, is actually a corruption of the Middle-English revise, from the Old French crevisse, from the Old High German crebis "a crab."

Q. Is "HEE-hee-uss" correct? I've just heard that pronunciation from a famous radio commentator.—Mrs. A. M. D. A. Heinous, meaning "odious; atrocious, giving great offense" should have two syllables only. Say: HAY-nuss.

Milwaukee: I say that "demi-tasse cups" is redundant. My friends say I am wrong. What do you say?

Answer: Demitasse, from the French demi-tasse, means literally "half cup," for tasse is the French word for "cup." In American usage demitasse means "a small cup for serving black coffee contained in such a cup." Also, in American usage, the small cups are pluralized thus: demitasses, and the American pronunciation is: DEM-ee-TASS-ee. (This is not the French pronunciation. The French say duh-metahss for both singular and plural.)

Good Summer Travel Season Is Forecast

THE Upper Peninsula Development Bureau sees signs about the country that indicate there will be a highly satisfactory volume of tourist traffic during the coming summer.

Florida and other winter resorts have enjoyed peak business activity since the first of the year, and it is expected this urge for travel and vacations will continue into the summer.

Much of the winter travel rush was due to the Korean war scare. Many folks feared restrictions would be placed on train, airplane and automobile transportation, and wanted to get a final fling at vacation fun.

No clamps have been put on travel as yet, so it can be expected that many folks will make sure they get a summer vacation this year. Inquiries from prospective vacationers are coming in early. There is much public interest in fishing and special events.

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce has been receiving inquiries about smelt fishing as a result of publicity given to the Escanaba Smelt Jamboree in Chicago and Milwaukee newspapers. An article written by Don Gillies, outdoors editor of the Detroit Times, has brought letters from Lower Michigan folks who want to fish for Bay de Noc walleyes as soon as the season opens.

Old Pal Joe

By Gordon Martin

Just to illustrate the story, call the other fellow Joe, and you meet him on the corner when to lunch you have to go. Then it's good to see your old-time pal, you say with much delight, and you then and there invite him to your house that very night. And when old pal Joe declares he'd sure be mighty glad to come, you look forward to the visit of your long-lost boyhood chum.

So arriving home, you tell the little woman what you've done, and you say it's surely bound to be an evening full of fun. But her shoulder is the coldest you have ever had to meet—when it comes to absent-mindedness, she says you can't be beat. It was days ago she told you that this night you had a date, to escort her out to play some bridge and have some supper late.

Just because you have forgotten, you cannot upset her plans—after all, she's sick and tired of staying home with pots and pans. And besides, this fellow Joe she's often heard you talk about, well—she doesn't think she'd like him and she's darn sure going out. So, by telephone, you hasten to explain to old pal Joe, that tonight he'll not be calling at your charming bungalow.

FBI Chief Reveals Red Danger In U. S. Plants

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—Before at least two Congressional committees in executive session J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, recently expressed himself with exceptional positiveness. He was talking about a gap in America's security system that has caused Hoover and his staff a great deal of concern.

That is the absence of any central responsibility for protecting the industrial plants and laboratories where vital secret defense work is going forward. This is almost an invitation to both sabotage and espionage, Hoover warned the committees.

Theoretically, the munitions board is responsible for plant protection. But as Hoover said, with an edge of scorn in his voice, what they have done is to prepare a pamphlet telling plant managers how they can take proper protective measures. Reports indicate that some have, while others have not.

The hole in the nation's internal defenses is pointed up by the report on Soviet atomic espionage just issued by the joint Senate-House committee on atomic energy. The document, which compares in its cumulative effect with the report of the Canadian Royal commission covering Canada's espionage ring, tells in careful detail the story of the five chief atomic betrayers—Klaus Fuchs, Bruno Pontecorvo, Allan Nunn May, David Greenglass, Harry Gold. To read these 222 closely-printed pages is to get a feeling of almost physical revulsion that there could be such a betrayal of every trust, when not alone the lives of millions of human beings were at stake but nations themselves and the survival of western civilization.

One Ray of Hope

Just one ray of what might be called hope is discernible. The FBI and other interested agencies have reported no successful act of atomic espionage committed against the United States from mid-1946 onward. The report states:

"Not until 1947, when the present law controlling atomic energy was enacted, did the FBI become responsible for investigating project personnel. Previously the army Manhattan engineer district had full charge of atomic development and handled security matters exclusively through its own officials."

In Britain, of course, the espionage continued down almost to the present. Fuchs was working on top atomic secrets in England until he was arrested in 1949 on a tip furnished by the FBI. It is hardly an exaggeration, according to the report, to say that Fuchs alone has influenced the safety of more people and accomplished greater damage than any other spy, not only in the history of the United States but in the history of the world.

Strangely enough, even though his arrest was caused by information furnished by the FBI, the British were reluctant to allow FBI agents to question Fuchs after he was imprisoned. When permission was finally granted, Fuchs furnished clues that led to the uncovering of the Greenglass-Rosenberg ring in this country. Under British law, Fuchs could be given only 14 years in prison. He is being allowed to devote part of his time to scientific work, according to the report.

Pontecorvo fled behind the Iron Curtain in Russia by way of Finland only last September, taking with him his wife and three children and an unknown volume of data in a bulging briefcase. He was working with Fuchs at the Harwell atomic project in England. After Fuchs' arrest, it came to light that his name had been mentioned along with many others in a diary taken by Canadian officials when the spy ring in

J. EDGAR HOOVER

Canada was broken in 1946. Kept Underground One significant fact should be underscored. Not one of these monstrous betrayers ever gave a sign of sympathy for Communism or Soviet Russia. They joined no fellow-traveling organizations, said nothing important about politics to their friends and co-workers. They would never have been apprehended by the method of public hearing and public denunciation.

The Communist conspiracy is like an iceberg with only a part of it visible above the surface. This is the least harmful part in which screwballs and misguided idealists are encouraged to make a propaganda clamor that deceives very few outside the circle of dupes and captives.

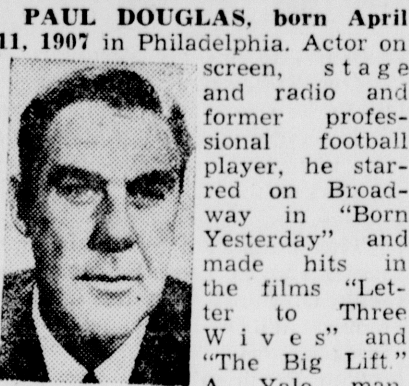

It is the seven-tenths beneath the surface that is really dangerous. To discover and to destroy the submerged part of the conspiracy takes all the skill, experience and darning of a crack professional agency like the FBI.

At the beginning of World War II Hoover organized a detailed system of industrial plant protection. In one of those bureaucratic jangles that occur here too often, it was taken away from the FBI in the middle of the war, largely by army intelligence.

The present hole in America's defenses must be plugged as quickly as possible. Centralized authority for the protection of America's priceless war-making

Fishing Season Shifts Debated

Listen To Experts, Lawmakers Told

LANSING — (AP) — Legislative committees were urged last night to give more weight to the advice of unbiased experts than to sporting goods dealers and chambers of commerce in considering changes in Michigan sport fishing seasons.

The House fisheries committee and the senate conservation committee held a hearing on a bill to shorten the trout season, lengthen the bluegill and sunfish season and make other changes, starting in 1952.

Rom Dilley of Grand Rapids, a member of the Kent County conservation league, told the committees, "it is about time we used the good scientific talent we have been paying for."

He said the conservation department specialists who recommended the changes "are unbiased and have no motive except the preservation of the sport of fishing."

Fred W. Westernman, chief of the department fish division, and Dr. Albert E. Hazzard, director of the Department Institute for Fisheries Research, said their recommendations were based on studies showing trout needed more protection and bluegills could stand more fishing.

The bill would open the regular trout, bluegill and sunfish, the walleye, pike and muskellunge seasons on the second Saturday in May.

Traffic Death Toll In Michigan May Go To 2,000 This Year

LANSING — (AP) — If Michigan's traffic death toll continues at its present rate, 2,000 persons will be killed on the highways this year.

The state police said this would be exceeded only by the 1937 and 1941 tolls.

The report said 104 persons were killed in February, a 24 per cent increase over the same month last year. In two months of 1951, 243 persons were killed, an increase of 29 per cent.

The police said the fatality increase occurred in rural areas, mainly in the deaths of pedestrians and in two-car collisions.

For the two months, traffic injuries numbered 6,234 or a seven per cent increase and accidents rose 21 per cent to 29,577.

Acheson And McCarthy Meet Face To Face

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson and one of his severest critics, Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.), are booked to meet face-to-face tomorrow for the first time.

Coming so soon after the discharge of General MacArthur — which McCarthy called akin to treason — the meeting is likely to be dramatic, but it probably will be behind closed doors rather than out where the public can watch.

The secretary tomorrow goes before a Senate appropriations subcommittee which passes on state department funds. McCarthy is a new member of the group.

Freeze Exempts Sale Of Timber Stumpage

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government exempted all sales of "stumpage" timber from the general price freeze order.

This is timber in the form of a growing tree or a fallen one that is still at the stump.

The Office of Price Stabilization said price control of such timber is "administratively impractical at this time."

Its exemption order is effective April 12.

OPS said price control presents a major problem in this industry because of the great variations in timber from individual stands.

OPS said it believes the exemption order will lead to increased lumber production and larger sale of stumpage owned by federal agencies.

Discard Of Mac Stirs Up Public

(By The Associated Press)

President Truman's firing of General Douglas MacArthur from his Pacific posts touched off a new and violent "great debate" by the American public today.

Man-in-the-street interviews brought a more even division of public opinion.

Youths enlisting in the armed forces in New York recruiting stations overwhelmingly sided with MacArthur.

'Old Clothes' Bales Turn Out To Be U. S. Military Uniforms

HOUSTON, Tex. — (AP) — Customs officials are holding up a shipment of "old clothes" bound for the Middle East until they can find out if American military equipment was included by mistake or purposely.

A routine check turned up the materials at Port Houston Monday as the bales were being loaded aboard the Dutch ship, SS Riouw, for shipment to Damascus, Syria, by way of Beirut, Lebanon.

Customs agents opened 14 bales in a spot check. All contained military materials, including navy blues, whites and grays, electrically heated flight jackets and tents.

The bales were shipped by a Los Angeles firm. Customs Agent Alan F. Scharff said he was waiting for a report from the Los Angeles and San Francisco customs on the firm.

Charlevoix Chief, 72, Wounded By Wife In Joke With Old Gun

CHARLEVOIX, Mich. — (AP) — Fire Chief Charles Marshall, 72, of Charlevoix, was accidentally shot and wounded by his wife, Matilda, 70, yesterday.

At Charlevoix hospital Marshall's condition was described as serious.

The elderly couple was helping in the house-cleaning at the home of a relative, Henry Coons, when Mrs. Marshall came across an old-type revolver.

Believing it unloaded, she pointed it at her husband and joked, "I'm going to shoot you," police said.

The revolver discharged, and Marshall was shot in the abdomen.

Underworld Leader Dies At Miami Beach

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — (AP) — Charles Fischetti, 50, one of the leaders of America's underworld, died early today at his luxurious Miami Beach home.

A doctor said death was caused by a heart attack.

Fischetti and his brother, Rocco, surrendered nine days ago to the sergeant-at-arms of the U. S. Senate after federal agents had sought them many months to serve them with U. S. Senate crime investigating committee subpoenas.

Big Show May 19

DETROIT — (AP) — This armament-making city will stage a rousing military show for its observation of Armed Forces Day, May 19. The Army, Navy and Air Force will be honored in a parade displaying "the men and machines for defense." Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the board of Detroit Edison Co., is head of the program.

Duet For Sirens

MASON — (AP) — They're going to have a noisy time in Mason Friday night. Firemen have installed two new sirens atop the city hall. Friday night they'll start testing the two noise-makers. The alarm that does the loudest and best job will be purchased by the city for its permanent use.

Opinion expressed in the calls to newspaper offices ranged up to demands that the president be shot or hanged. At least one caller said he should see a psychiatrist.

But a caller typical of those defending Truman said:

"It is high time he did it. He should have done it long ago."

A notable trend among the callers was a demand for the names and addresses of their congressmen so they could write in protest.

"How do you impeach that old washwoman down in Washington?" asked a caller to the New York Times.

"What did MacArthur say about Margaret to make Truman fire him?" asked a caller to the Denver Post.

The San Francisco Examiner received a telegram saying:

"We have lost MacArthur but thank God we still have Gen. Harry Vaughan."

A fireman calling the Cleveland News said:

"If we need a Kefauver committee to show up the rottenness inside the country, we need one to show up the trouble in our international policy."

Canned Five-Star Commander Takes Defeat Unruffled

Congressional Medal of Honor, and innumerable foreign decorations.

MacArthur liked to think that his destiny had linked his career with the Orient. His first assignment was as a young engineer in the Philippines. Then he journeyed through another tumultuous era in Asia as aide to his father, Lt. Gen. Arthur MacArthur, the first military governor of the Philippines.

His career ended in the Orient — in a controversy over the importance of this half of the world in American defense plans.

MacArthur was 70 when the North Koreans struck last June. He was always mentally keen and alert; and so hard-working he denied himself holidays.

The general had maintained consistently that Communist force must be opposed by force, wherever it arose. His influence probably was predominate in the swift mobilization of United Nations troops.

The first decision to bomb north of the 38th parallel was made at a war conference in MacArthur's plane during a flight to Korea. I was present.

Takes His Own Risk — MacArthur asked his staff officers to find sufficient authority in his directives to take this step "without Washington hanging me."

Entry of the Chinese Communists in the war was a profound shock to the general. It was then that MacArthur began to show his pronounced, and fatal, impatience with the restraints under which he was obliged to fight.

It was then he began to demand political decisions and to suggest widening the war.

MacArthur firmly believed that the entry of the Chinese had opened a new war that could be won only by the full use of western power.

"It's a cockeyed world," he once said to me. "We're in a shooting war here, and all our troops are going to Europe."

The general wrote all of his own statements. In his most recent comments, he probably was taking his favorite "calculated risk."

Doubtless, he expected some sort of reaction. But it seems unlikely that he intended to gamble the U. N. command that he valued so much by repeating what he has said so consistently for a decade.

Grand Haven Closes Perilous Pier

GRAND HAVEN, Mich. — (AP) — As a peril to the public, Grand Haven's south pier — popular with perch fishermen — has been closed.

U. S. Army engineers put a ban on its use yesterday after a washout of sections of the pier.

For fishermen this could be a minor tragedy. Hundreds of west Michigan fishermen use it every summer.

The engineers put up a temporary rope barricade and "keep off" signs pending repairs. The north pier, however, is in condition for use.

Damage to the south pier was extensive. More than 200 feet of the crib wall is gone from the channel side of the pier between the foghorn station and inner light. Sidewalk slabs on top of the pier have fallen.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. said a fire on an oily patch of ground 14 miles south of here damaged a main cable.

Circuits between Detroit and Sault Ste. Marie were out. Service was rerouted last night, however, and repairs were to be completed today.

Grass Fire Cuts Off Detroit-Soo Service

FLINT, Mich. — (AP) — A grass fire cut off telephone service between Detroit and a Northern Michigan area temporarily yesterday.

Circuits between Detroit and Sault Ste. Marie were out. Service was rerouted last night, however, and repairs were to be completed today.

Spring Snowdrifts Melting In Colorado

DENVER — (AP) — Rising temperatures today began melting the big frozen mess left by a spring snowstorm that belted the Rocky Mountain states Monday night and Tuesday.

Only known casualty in this war was 55-year-old Douglas Stone of Denver, who died of a heart attack while shoveling snow in front of his home.

The snowfall left eight inches in Denver and better than nine inches at Boulder, Colo. An even foot fell in some of the mountain passes. Wyoming's maximum was four inches and Montana's about the same.

Loss Of Military Leader Branded Tragic Mistake

Gets Title Mixed — Martin told the House he believes the entire situation involving MacArthur's removal should be investigated.

Martin got mixed up in telling the House of his telephone talk with MacArthur and referred to "Senator MacArthur."

When the Democrats laughed, Martin added:

"He might be even higher later."

The general, now 71, has been mentioned as a possible Republican presidential candidate.

President Truman's abrupt replacement of the five-star hero of World War II Pacific fighting as supreme commander of United Nations forces in Korea deepened a U. S. foreign policy split which may be the deciding issue in the 1952 presidential election.

With Republicans leading the attack on the president's action, administration Democrats expressed regret that Mr. Truman found it necessary to take such a drastic move.

But they backed his demand that military commanders be governed by "policies and directives of the government," as they contended MacArthur had not.

Taft Leads Attack — The first flush of GOP criticism was so violent there even were rumors some congressmen might seek to initiate presidential impeachment proceedings in the House.

Discounting the effectiveness of such a move, administration supporters said they believe the president's stand will be backed by a majority of the people of the country.

They said his willingness to submit the issue to such a test might well lead to a presidential decision to run again next year to get the only possible final verdict — at the polls.

Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee and a possible Republican presidential candidate next year, led the attack on the presidential decision.

"The president has made a tragic error, not only because of the loss of one of the greatest military leaders in U. S. history but because the decision indicates a determination to continue the wavering, planless course in the Far East and points to either a stalemate in Korea or to ignominious concessions to the Chinese Communists," he told a reporter.

Heat On Acheson — The president's action seemed likely to rekindle to a blaze Republican fire on Acheson.

The cabinet member's chief congressional critic, Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.), called MacArthur's removal from command "a black day for America and a great day of rejoicing and victory for Communism."

General Ousted From All Of His Jobs By Truman

affirmation by Mr. Truman of United States policies for a strictly limited war in Korea, if possible, and for treating Europe as the ultimately decisive area of contest with Soviet Communist power.

The bombshell announcement was made by Press Secretary Joseph H. Short at a hastily summoned White House news conference.

The president told MacArthur he is free to "travel to such places as you select" — thus freeing the general to return to this country after an absence of nearly 14 years. There were immediate demands in Congress that he come at once to Washington to give his views.

Warned Last December — In addition to the heretofore secret messages, orders sent out shortly before midnight to bring about the spectacular shakeup in the Far East were also released.

The secret message file showed MacArthur had been covered in a general presidential order last Dec. 6, clamping down on policy statements by all government officials. He had been bluntly reminded of this by Mr. Truman's direction on March 24, after issuing his famous bid to the Red commander in Korea to talk peace as U. N. forces reached the 38th parallel.

Meanwhile, on March 20, the record showed, MacArthur had sent to House Republican Joe Martin (Mass) the letter endorsing Martin's idea of using Chinese Nationalist troops on Formosa to open a "second front" against Red China, and adding his own conviction that Asia rather than Europe is the critical theater of conflict with world Communism. Martin released the letter last week.

There was also an exchange of messages between the joint chiefs of staff and MacArthur on the question of arming Korean troops. This showed MacArthur raising a serious question whether more Koreans should be armed in view of weapons needs for the developing Japanese police.

Two Last Straws — Thus the White House sought to meet a MacArthur statement last weekend that the recent release of 120,000 South Koreans from military units was the result of a policy decision made in Washington and beyond his power to control.

While the Truman administration's feud with MacArthur goes back many months, two events apparently were decisive in bringing on the showdown. One was the General's 38th parallel statement, in which he not only invited Red peace talks but also implied the United Nations might alter their policies and attack Red China.

This set tempers rising in Allied capitals here and abroad. For

Directives Ignored — The President rejected suggestions that for the time being he not only did the policy makers have no intention of expanding the war, but as the messages now released show, they were planning their own much less belligerent bid to peace. Once MacArthur had spoken this was scrapped.

The second incident was the MacArthur letter to Martin. Martin is a leader of the President's Republican opposition; he used the letter in attacking the presidentially sponsored universal military training bill in the house.

Goes In Swinging — That was last Thursday. Almost immediately Mr. Truman began conferring with Secretary of Defense Marshall, Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and other advisers on whether he should fire MacArthur and if so, how.

The President is understood to have been cautioned in these conferences that if he did act so drastically he would face a political battle of staggering proportions. His advisers believed MacArthur's return here would set off another "great debate," this time over Far Eastern strategy instead of European defense.

That Mr. Truman accepted this view and went into the fight swinging from the first moment of releasing military orders and messages of a type which normally a government never makes public.

It is authoritatively understood that either the President or Secretary of State Acheson, perhaps both, may now follow up with public statements or speeches designed to clarify Korean war aims and restate the limits and direction of American policies in Korea.

Escanaba Wins Praise As OWAA Meeting Site

Ebb Warren, former Michigan resident who is now director of the educational division of the Colorado conservation department, praises Escanaba as the site for the 1951 outdoor writers convention in a letter appearing in the OWAA bulletin, Outdoors Unlimited.

His letter was addressed to J. Hammond Brown of Baltimore, president of the Outdoor Writers' Association of America, which will meet in Escanaba June 30 to July 7.

Warren's letter, written from Colorado Springs, Colo., follows: "The selection of Escanaba, Michigan as a site for the national OWAA convention is a natural.

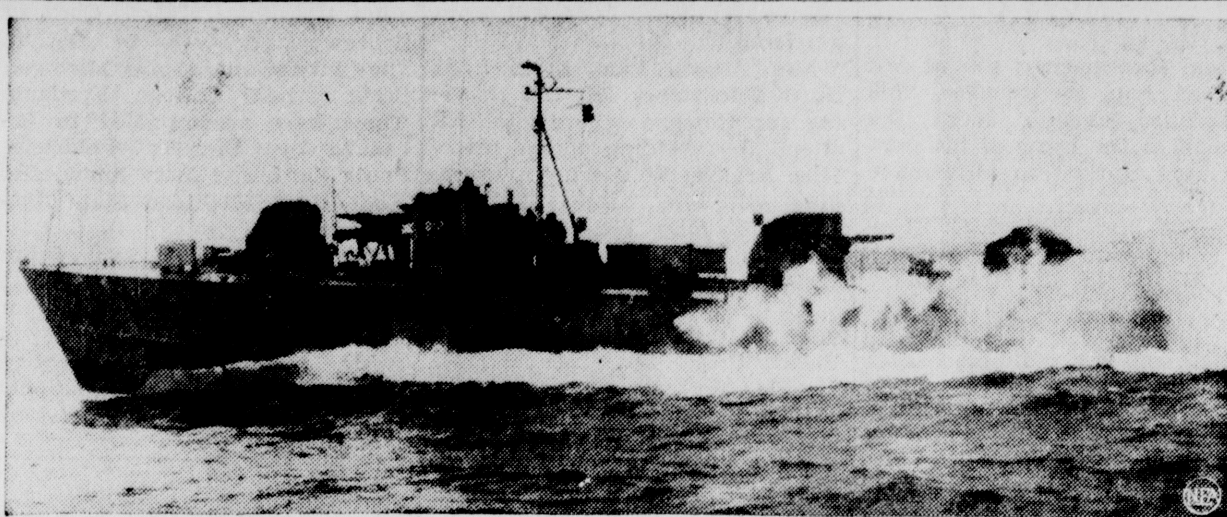

The hospitality of the Michigan people who will be our hosts, the pleasant surroundings of the city and the multitudinous of interesting outdoor attractions will make this convention no member of the association will want to miss.

"Because some of the members will be looking for photo and story material of the area while they are there I thought it might be well to mention a few of the possibilities that are offered within striking distance of the convention headquarters. They are many. In fact that country is full of outdoor feature material.

"The nationally famous walleye fishing, which is practically on the front yard of the city of Escanaba, is phenomenal. The big ones are a bit earlier than the dates set for the convention but there should be some fine catches made by those who want pictures and a story on walleye fishing on the Great Lakes.

"For the smallmouth basser I think there are some surprises in store. Discovered in recent years are some of the most spectacular smallmouth grounds the state has to offer right along the shore of Lake Michigan, especially between Escanaba and Menominee, and in the vicinity of Wells State Park. A water or air hop will take one to the Beaver Islands or Waugoshance Point which are other famous smallmouth spots. The Beavers are steeped in Mormon legend and tales of King Strang. Spectacular catches of Great Lakes yellow perch are often made in St. James Harbor and in the bays of Garden peninsula.

"Trout fishing would be hard to list. There is so much good water and such a variety of fishing in the Upper Peninsula at this time of the year that the hot spots are many. The fast, heavy rainbow bow water on the lower Escanaba a few minutes drive from town will undoubtedly appeal to the wet-fly and spinner men. The mayfly hatch should be just about at its peak on the Indian river where the night fishing for browns is something to look forward to. Brook trout waters? Well, the Upper Peninsula is native habitat for brookies. Numerous streams and beaver ponds scattered through the back country harbor some fat, deep colored beauties. There is just about every kind of trout fishing one could ask for in that country. I doubt if any real trout fisherman will want to miss taking at least one crack at the he-man rainbow fishing in the rugged Soo Rapids at Sault Ste. Marie. Nor will they want to pass up a chance to troll for big lake trout on Lake Superior out of Grand Marais, Munising, Marquette or Silver City.

"A side trip to Isle Royale has plenty to offer in both photos and fishing. For moose pictures it can't be beaten. Lake trout and coaster (Lake Superior brook trout) fishing along the rocky shores and around the small islands is exceptionally good. On some of the inland lakes on Isle Royale there is unbelievable northern pike fishing—big ones, eighteen and twenty pounds.

"For scenic drives there is the Porcupine Mountains and Lake of the Clouds; Keweenaw Peninsula with Copper Harbor and Lake Fanny Hooe; oh, yes, Lake Michigan offering flyfishing for whitefish; Upper and Lower Falls of the Tahquamenon—setting for Longfellow's famed Hiawatha; and the Pictured Rocks at Munising.

"Yep, Brownie, Escanaba is

Economy-Bent House Votes 90 Percent Cut In Voice Of America

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House has tentatively approved a slash of more than 90 per cent in an administration request for funds to expand the "Voice of America."

The economy-bent House also took its knife to the Commodity Credit Corporation—knocking $750,000 from the agency's administrative expense budget.

Both requests for funds applied to the remaining months of this fiscal year—until July 1.

The "voice" is the government-

60 Radio 'Hams' In Defense Test

Alert Will Come Monday, April 16

Approximately 60 radio "hams" will participate in a Michigan all-out civil defense test, Monday, April 16, when the alert from Lansing will be given.

The present plan calls for an attack on Sault Ste. Marie, where emergency operations of portable, mobile and battery operated transmitters will be in operation. The control station at the Sault has been set up in the basement of the Junior high school and tests have already been made. Escanaba "hams" who will take part are Hank Olson, W 8 Z M N, Harry Meiers, W 8 YNF, and Jack Foster, W 8 ZMQ.

Present plans call for the placing of the emergency message out of the Sault through the Sault Civil Defense control station operated by John Goodyear, W8OJT, Elmo Laucks, W8III, and E. Brown, W8MHH, of Traverse City. Mr. Brown is a radio communications engineer for the Civil Aeronautics Authority, temporarily stationed in the Sault.

The outgoing message will be relayed to state CD headquarters in Lansing by Ken Smith, W8ZEE, of Pickford. Other mobile and emergency equipment will be stationed at designated emergency hospital centers including Brimley, Holiday Inn, Rosedale Grange Hall, Dunbar Forestry site and possibly Kinross 4-H building.

From Lansing the alert will be relayed to Upper Michigan emergency co-ordinators stationed in Marquette. John Sincok, W8CSI, is net control for the Upper Peninsula network. State Police and the Red Cross will also stand by. All net operations will be carried out on the emergency frequency of 3,930 kilocycles, which is also the Michigan net frequency. It is expected that about 100 hams will be involved in the operation.

Dairy cows will show an increase of from five to ten per cent in milk production when water is available to them at all times.

New U-Boats Have Comforts Of Home

NORFOLK, Va. — (AP) — Navy men used to drum up trade by encouraging youngsters to "join the navy and see the world."

They still do — but something new has been added.

Now they beat the toms-toms for the navy's submarine service — and the catch-phrase might read something like this:

"Join the navy's submarine service for hot and cold running showers, suntan lamps and all the other comforts of home."

All these are designed to get volunteers—the only type of navy men allowed on submarines. But—there also is extra pay attached.

It's not just the old malarkey, either. They're building subs now with ceilings painted to resemble the sky, with suntan lamps to give that extra "oomph" and with showers—not to mention washing machines.

Old-timers in the submarine service wouldn't recognize things the way they are today — the 51st anniversary of the founding of the Navy's submarine service.

And things haven't even begun to happen yet. Navy officials have in their "top secret" files plans to produce a sub able to stay under water indefinitely and travel at 35 knots.

It's powered by atomic energy, naturally, and its nuclear power plant already has been completed partially. Work will begin July 1—but it may be two years before it's perfected.

Then there's the submarine to be powered by hydrogen peroxide. And there's also the anti-submarine submarine. Its job will be to hunt out enemy subs and get rid of them.

Of the most public interest, of course, is the Snorkel-type sub. The Snorkel is a breathing tube to allow the undersea craft to use its diesels while submerged.

There are 21 subs on active duty with "Snorkels." Ten more soon will be similarly equipped. But the Navy publication, "All Hands," says such subs may be outdated even before they become familiar.

All of this is a far cry from the 54-foot vessel for which the Navy first contracted with an Irish schoolmaster back on April 11, 1900.

That little article could travel all of four miles an hour—and it could stay under water for every bit of 40 miles without surfacing.

But Navy men today remember John P. Holland, who designed that initial sub. And submarines recline—or celebrate—today in his honor in their "palaces of the sea."

Two young women students were in the group, Miss Shirley Gregory of Traverse City and Miss Gloria Schultz of Rockford.

The Escanaba youth has indicated he has had fine help during his college career through the friendly counseling of the members of the Ferris staff.

Air Force Eases Enlistment Quota

Air force enlistment quotas have been raised to permit enlistment of 86 men in Michigan, giving the Escanaba office a chance to exceed its previous limit of one man per day, Capt. Warren A. DeLatte, commander of the local recruiting station, said today.

Capt. DeLatte said the new order provided an opportunity for enlistment of young men in this area who are physically and mentally qualified to become members of the air force.

Men wishing to enlist may contact M/Sgt. Leo J. Laviolette at the recruiting station, 1215 Ludington street, or phone 2944.

NAUTICAL GAL — Movie starlet Sandra Spence is happy as a herring at being chosen "Coast Guard Queen." She's seen in a New York nautical setting after netting the title. By a strange coincidence, she makes her film debut in a picture called "The Fighting Coast Guard."

Bonds numbered 451 to 900, inclusive, are callable for redemption at the option of the city in inverse order of maturities with the bonds within any maturity to be selected by lot, on July 1, 1960, and on any interest payment date thereafter at par plus accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption plus a premium for each bond so redeemed prior to maturity of $20 for each bond redeemed on or prior to July 1, 1964, $15 for each bond redeemed thereafter on or prior to July 1, 1969, and $10 for each bond redeemed thereafter prior to maturity. Notice of redemption shall be given not less than thirty days prior to the date fixed for redemption by registered mail to the owner of each bond called for redemption who is then registered as to principal. If any bond called for redemption is not so registered, then such notice shall be given not less than thirty days prior to the date fixed for redemption by registered mail to the place of payment and by publication one time in a paper circulated in the State of Michigan which carries as a part of its regular service notice of sale of municipal bonds.

Additional bonds on a parity with these bonds may be issued for improvements and extensions to the system on conditions set forth in the ordinance authorizing this issue. For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from January 1, 1951, to their maturity, and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the city.

No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds, or at a price less than their par value, will be considered. Said bonds are to be issued under Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1953 as amended, for the purpose of making improvements and extensions to the water system of the City of Escanaba.

Said bonds are not a general obligation of the City of Escanaba but are payable from and will have a first lien on the net revenues of the waterworks plant and system of the City of Escanaba. Envelopes containing bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds." A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $18,000 drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company, payable to the order of the Treasurer of the City of Escanaba, Michigan, must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the city. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds, or at a price less than their par value, will be considered. The city will supply without charge to the purchaser the executed bonds and a certified transcript of proceedings, including a certificate dated as of the date of delivery evidencing the absence of litigation affecting the organization of the city or the legality or payment of the bonds. Bonds will be delivered at Escanaba, Michigan, or such other place as may be agreed upon with the purchaser. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. (Inquiries for further information should be addressed to the undersigned.)

products—which got a big jump on other commodities in World War II—had risen to 297 when the government's January wage-price freeze went into effect. Non-farm products stood at 222 then, while all commodities combined were at 234. From pre-Korea to price freeze, wholesale farm prices rose about 17 per cent, while all commodities rose 15 per cent.

1, 1952, and semi-annually thereafter on February 1 and August 1 of each year. The interest rate for each coupon period on any one bond shall be at one rate only, and not more than four different rates of interest may be specified. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such bonds must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery. Both principal and interest will be payable at the Office of the City Treasurer, Escanaba, Michigan.

Said bonds will mature serially in numerical order $12,000 on February 1, 1953 to 1960, inclusive, and $17,000 on February 1, 1961. For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all future due interest on the bonds from their date to their maturity, and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the city. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds, or at a price less than their par value, will be considered.

The bonds are general obligations of the city and are payable from taxes to be levied upon all taxable property therein without limitation as to rate or amount.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $2,500 drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company, payable to the order of the Treasurer of the City of Escanaba, must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder. Corse High School Dope Ring Broken Up

DETROIT — (AP) — Detective Chief Robert McWhirter of suburban Ecorse declared that juvenile narcotics rings that peddled dope in the halls of Ecorse high school has been broken up.
McWhirter said 11 persons, eight of them Ecorse or River Rouge students were rounded up. All but one were released. McWhirter identified the one held as Lorenzo Patillo, 22, of Detroit, and described him as a "wholesaler-supplier."
The roundup followed six weeks of investigation by detectives. McWhirter said it was found that marihuana was being sold and smoked at "jam" sessions at the weekly dance staged by the "teen-age club" at Miller intermediate school.

Conservatives Trip British Socialists On Rationed Cheese

LONDON — Winston Churchill's Conservatives baited a parliamentary trap with rationed cheese and defeated Britain's Socialist government by 18 votes.
But it was no formal motion of censure, and the Laborites—disregarding demands of the delighted Tories—viewed it as a minor matter not requiring Prime Minister Attlee's government to resign.
The vote was sprung by the Conservatives on a seemingly routine and comparatively calm debate on the question of Britain's cheese ration. The government

Steam-soaked Switchboard Restored Quickly

JAMES T. MOORE, Detroit Ball Bearing Co. executive, and LEONA HENDERSON, the firm's switchboard operator

IT ALL happened at the office and warehouse of the Detroit Ball Bearing Company over a recent week end. A steam line burst, right under the room where the company's telephone switchboard was located. Clouds of steam rose through the floor, drenching the switchboard inside and out, making it useless.

Michigan Bell PBX Repairmen Kermit J. Manore and Olin Warren rushed to the scene, went to work, restored service.

James T. Moore, Secretary of the ball bearing firm, wrote the following to Michigan Bell:

"A note of appreciation for the swell emergency service rendered to us. The service men on the job certainly worked extremely hard to give us service. They worked until approximately 9 o'clock last night and were on the job again this morning. Thank you for the excellent co-operation of your department and particularly your service men who stuck by the board."

Guard Units Choose Peninsula Gun Range

MARQUETTE, Mich.—(P)—The sound of heavy artillery fire may be heard along a lonely stretch of Upper Michigan's Lake Superior shore this summer. The Upper Peninsula Development Bureau said National Guard units of "several midwestern states" are surveying the area for possible artillery training sites.

Only likely spots, the Bureau said, would be between Munising and Grand Marais in Delta and Schoolcraft counties, or in the northern parts of Baraga and Marquette counties.

Airmen Urged To Register

Must Obtain Cards Before Sept. 1

Pilots, mechanics and other airmen were urged today by Donald W. Nyrop, administrator of civil aeronautics, to apply promptly for the identification cards which will be required under proposed amendments of the civil air regulations.

Although the deadline for obtaining the cards is September 1, 1951, the administrator advised the nation's half-million airmen to avoid delays by early filing of applications at CAA Aviation Safety District Offices. The proposed regulation changes provide that on or after April 16, 1951, safety agents will be authorized to issue cards on the spot to airmen who show satisfactory identification and proof of citizenship.

An airman applying for a card should provide the following items:

- Two identical photographs, approximately one by one inch in size, full face, head only, taken within the 12 months preceding date of application.
 - Proof of identification, such as licenses, or combinations of identification cards and documents which will identify the applicant.
 - Proof of citizenship, place and date of birth, such as birth certificate, baptismal certificate, passport, or an airman identification card issued by CAA during World War II.
 - His airman certificate.
- The applicant's fingerprint will be placed on both the application form and the identification card.
- Applicants who have lost their World War II CAA identification card may write the chief, airman records branch, CAA, Washington 25, D. C., and request a letter verifying that such a card was issued to them. This letter will meet the citizenship and place and date of birth requirements for obtaining one of the new identification cards.

Churchill To Speak In Philadelphia But Won't Take Any Pay

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Winston Churchill, who will deliver a major address at the University of Pennsylvania next month, won't take a penny's pay for his speech.

Churchill agreed to speak at Pennsylvania May 8 as part of the university's 200th anniversary after conferring with Harold E. Stassen, Penna's president, and Robert G. Dunlop, president of the Sun Oil company.

Stassen and Dunlop flew to London to extend a personal invitation to the British wartime leader.

A source close to the discussion said the agreement with Churchill calls for payment only of expenses for himself and a party of 10, which probably will include Mrs. Churchill.

Conviction Of Two Negroes Reversed By U. S. High Court

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The supreme court unanimously struck down the conviction of two Florida Negroes sentenced to die for the rape of a white girl.

Two justices protested that the case stirred deep racial feelings in the area and that this was "exploited to the limit by the press."

Justice Jackson wrote that the court majority had reversed the convictions only because Negroes were discriminated against in the selection of a trial jury.

But with Justice Frankfurter concurring, Jackson said the reversal on that point alone was to "stress the trivial and ignore the important." He wrote:

"If freedoms of the press are so abused as to make fair trial in the locality impossible, the judicial process must be protected by removing the trial to a forum beyond its probable influence."

Jackson interpolated in his written opinion this comment from the bench:

"It is becoming a question whether under modern methods of publicity a fair trial can be granted any man."

The court's action means that Samuel Shepard and Walter Irv- ing will have to tried again—in a different court—for the rape on July 16, 1949, of Norma Padgett, then 17.

The girl was attacked near Groveland, Fla.

LOST 28 POUNDS Wonderful Results with Rennel

If you have been constantly fighting those extra pounds without results, it is now possible to lose weight without starvation diet or strenuous exercise. Here is the experience of Marie Schloss, 8342 Townsend, Detroit 13, Mich., who writes: "From my experience I believe Rennel Concentrate is the best reducing aid on the market. I had gained 35 pounds and did not feel well. My doctor found that excess weight was the cause of my illness. I tried a strict diet but could not keep it up because in it there was not enough substantial food to keep up my body strength. So I started to use Rennel. With the five bottles I used and eating every kind of food I lost 28 pounds. I feel grand and more active. I recommend Rennel to all my friends and they say it's great since it requires no fuss or bother and you eat whatever you desire."

It's amazing how quickly you can lose unsightly fat at home. Obtain 4 ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate at your druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two table- spoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple easy way to lose ugly fat and help regain slen- der, more graceful curves, just return it for your money back. Note how quickly blot disappears—how much better you feel. Insist on Rennel.

GOOD NEWS everywhere you look in the NEW PLYMOUTH

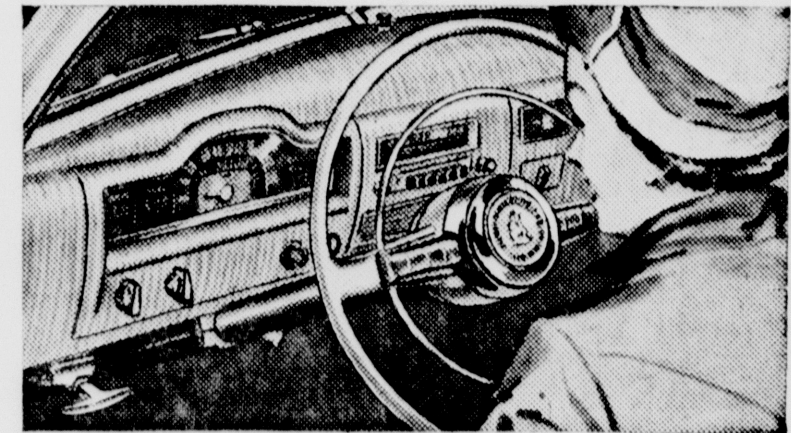

NEW "SAFETY-FLOW RIDE"—stability and safety never possible before! Even when you unexpectedly encounter violent bumps, dips, waves, or holes in the road, you enjoy a smooth and steady motion. You have complete control of the car at all times. "Safety-Flow Ride" comes from new Oriflow shock absorbers working with other engineering features.

NEW ELECTRIC WINDSHIELD WIPERS, unlike vacuum wipers, clean at a fast, constant speed, even when the engine is under a heavy load. They're standard equipment and with them you're not required to buy a vacuum booster. You enjoy better vision all around, with narrower front corner posts and a 15% larger rear window.

NEW BUMPERS, GRILLE, HOOD. The low-sweeping new hood permits a better view of the road close to the car. Individual grille units are replaceable, so you don't need a whole new grille if only one part is damaged. Also, all four fenders are bolted on; they cost less to repair or replace than fenders which are parts of the body.

NEW INSTRUMENT PANEL AND HAND BRAKE. The new vertical-grain dash harmonizes with a variety of rich interior fabrics and trim. The new "T-handle" hand brake pulls easily, sets positively, and releases at a turn of the handle. The ignition key does three things at once: turns on the ignition, starts the engine, and puts the automatic choke in operation!

NEW ENGINE FEATURES. A new radiator pressure cap increases cooling capacity when you need it most and also helps keep the water or anti-freeze from boiling away. A new by-pass cooling system, standard on all models, gives fast warm-up and yet circulates the coolant so that the engine is fully protected under all starting and driving conditions.

AND MORE GOOD NEWS—AT YOUR PLYMOUTH DEALER'S

This doesn't even begin to tell you the Plymouth Value Story. Your Plymouth dealer wants to tell you more, and he'd like to demonstrate the sensational new "Safety-Flow Ride." So why not stop in, or phone him, today or tomorrow?

D. A. R. Chapter
Meets For Program
And Special Report

Lewis Cass chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. J. Carlton, with Mrs. Robert C. Haven as co-hostess.

The business meeting, which was conducted by Mrs. W. J. Anthony, vice regent, was followed by a short program. Ruth Haven gave her oratorical declamation, "Golden Windows," and Mrs. C. S. Norton gave a report on the visual education program of the National Society, D. A. R., which is rapidly being broadened and improved through a gift of $10,000 from John W. Anderson, president of the Anderson Manufacturing Co., of Gary, Ind.

Mr. Anderson presented the gift, with the stipulation that the society should pledge the same amount. This has been done, and the society is now engaged in working out a visual education program which will, as Mr. Anderson stated: "Support those things which it seems might keep our nation what it was and what we hope it will continue to be."

The donor said that he had for some time been trying to find some way in which he could help in such a program, and that he was astonished, after a conference with D. A. R. officials, to learn that the organization's program, ideals and standards fitted his desires so ideally.

In closing her report, Mrs. Norton quoted Mr. Anderson as saying that he hoped his gift and the society's pledge together would mark the beginning of a vast undertaking in the direction of making clear to the country the things the D. A. R. stands for.

Crime Probe
Exposes Immorality
To Children

By MURIEL LAWRENCE We can use the Kefauver committee's revelations to show our children the kinship between moral corruption and catastrophe. You could preach for weeks—and fail to make the case for moral integrity as effectively as it has been made for us by the haunted, strained faces of the committee's witnesses as they have shown themselves in our newspapers, and on newsreel and television screens.

Tonight at dinner, why don't you recreate for your growing youngsters the emotions that must have beset these morally bankrupt men with the big bank accounts?

Let the young consider what these weeks have meant in terms of shock at the revelation that the Power-Money god could not help.

Let them give thought to the mounting panic, the waiting, the lost hope and the despair as the big shots with the big bank accounts were thrust into the blaze where truth shivered them down to size.

Then say, "Wise men do not build their houses on the shifting sand of self-importance, dishonesty and deceit. They build them on the rock of personal integrity. When the storm comes, they eye it calmly, without fear, without hate, without evasion."

Don't quibble. These were disobedient men. It won't hurt Bill or Janet one bit to hear that disobedience to rightful authority brings suffering. Because it is the will to power. Because it is an act of self-segregation from the rest of us who do obey. Because it is self-interest. Because it is anarchy.

The Senate Crime Investigating committee has done us an invaluable service by exposing an immorality so corrupt that we are revolted. We are rapidly reaching a saturation point in revulsion from immorality, from treason trials and the whole complex mess that has been made by ethical confusion.

When we reach the saturation point, we are going to demand back our moral and spiritual certainties.

This explosion of Senator Kefauver's facts into public view is a wholesome experience for us. Our children like money too much. They put too much trust in it. They need straightening out.

They need a concrete lesson. That is it. And we parents need a bit of straightening out, too, if the truth must be told. We've got to start questioning the wisdom and interest of those who say, "Handle evil in your child tenderly. Don't tell him he's told a lie. Call it 'imagination.'"

The greatest advocate of love that ever lived dealt sternly with evil. Jesus spoke to it with the authority of love. Let's stop being tender with evil wherever it shows itself—in me, in you, in our children and in the man in the place of power.

Theresa Peterson,
Adelore Gerou
Married Today

White lilies decorated the altar of St. Joseph's church at Perkins for the wedding this morning of Miss Theresa Peterson, daughter of Mrs. Agnes Peterson of Perkins and Adelore J. Gerou of Rock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adelore Gerou.

The Very Rev. A. C. Coignard solemnized the marriage service at an 8 o'clock high mass. The traditional bridal procession and recessional were used and the offertory hymn was Schubert's "Ave Maria."

Bridal attendants were Miss Frances Peterson and Wilfred Gerou.

The bride wore a light royal blue suit with lemon yellow accessories and a corsage of yellow roses and blue hyacinths. Her maid of honor wore a mist pink suit with royal blue accessories and a shoulder bouquet of pink roses and white hyacinths.

Mrs. Peterson selected a black gabardine suit with pink accessories for her daughter's wedding and the bridegroom's mother wore a skipper blue ensemble. Their corsages were pink roses and lily of the valley.

The wedding breakfast for immediate family members was served at the home of the bride's mother and a dinner and reception also will be at the Peterson family home.

The newlyweds' honeymoon destination is unannounced.

C-C Committees Are Appointed

Busy Session Held
By Directors

Committee appointments for the fiscal year of 1951 were made by President Frank Jandro at a directors meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night and were approved by the board.

The question of a hospital for Gladstone was raised and the success of co-operative hospitals in Wisconsin was touched on. Acting Secretary Theophil Hoffmann was authorized to contact organizations sponsoring such hospitals and report at a future gathering.

Access to present files by committees was suggested and the idea given approval. This will assist committees in starting to function and in carrying out work previously started.

Last year's work program will be made available to the planning committee for consideration.

Farmers Day was discussed and it was decided to contact Claude Ebling, Soo Line Agricultural Agent, formerly of Gladstone, to serve as a speaker.

Herb Cornell, local commercial fisherman, gave the stand of the commercial men toward the Erlandsen bill to protect walleyes.

Committee appointments made by President Jandro:

Financial — Rev. T. H. Hoffmann, Walter Lied.

Membership — Oliver Gabrielson, G. E. Dehlin, J. L. Jacobson, Fred Siebert.

Planning — Chas. Burton, Helmer Skogquist, Wallace Cameron, Harold Appelgren.

Social — J. E. Ulrich, A. W. Rohde, John Vogt, Geo. Mathison.

Industrial — A. C. Peterson, John M. Olson, Stanley Venne, Geo. Nolden, H. J. Hendrickson.

Hospital — Rev. T. H. Hoffmann, H. T. Brewer, Phil Hupy, Grier Ivory.

Kipling PTA Will Sponsor 4-H Picnic

The Kipling-Brampton Parent-Teachers association will sponsor a 4-H picnic and Achievement Day, it was decided at a meeting — of the PTA Monday night. Date of the event will be set later.

Following the meeting lunch was served by a committee composed of Mrs. Hugo Johnson, Mrs. Wilfred Cole and Mrs. Josephine Duchenev.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Erickson Set For Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. John Erickson are to be held Thursday afternoon at 2 at the First Baptist church, the Rev. Bertl Friberg officiating. Burial will be in Lakewood cemetery in Stonington. The body is resting at the Kelley funeral home.

Kentucky has more miles of navigable river water than any other state in the Union.

GHS Students Having Annual Career Day

The second annual Career Day at which youths will have a chance to get an idea of what they have selected as their lifework is what they still want to be held at Gladstone high school Thursday.

Included in the sessions are students of the junior and senior high schools.

Dr. Wilbur West of Northern Michigan College of Education, Marquette, will deliver the introductory address and is to make a summation at the close.

During the past several weeks

Social

Covenant Fellowship — The Covenant Fellowship of the Mission Covenant church will meet at 8 o'clock on Thursday evening at the church. There will be a program with refreshments being served at the close. Mrs. Milton Hendrickson is the hostess.

The program: Devotions, Mrs. Gilbert Larson. Vocal Selections by Trio, The Misses Elsie Swenson, Lois Borne and Inez Nyberg.

Story and Song, Melba Lou Heric.

Recitation, Linda Nyberg.

Group of boys and girls from Sunday school will sing.

Readings, Mrs. Linda Erickson, Mrs. Harold Nelson and Miss Elsie Swenson.

City Briefs

avenue, was admitted as a surgical patient in St Francis hospital, Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Klug, Mrs. Charles Fitzlaff and Mrs. Ada Lahaie visited Monday with Mrs. John Pistulka at Manistique. Mrs. Pistulka is formerly of Gladstone.

Paul Simpson has arrived from Flint to spend several weeks visiting here with his children and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Simpson.

Cpl. Richard Tetzner left Saturday for Fort Dix, N. J., where he will report prior to being sent overseas to Europe. He stopped enroute in Milwaukee to attend the Sportsmen Show with his father, Dr. A. A. Hollick. Cpl. Tetzner spent a thirty day furlough at his parental home.

Past Commanders Meet On Friday

The Past Commanders Club of August Mattson Post, American Legion, will have a regular meeting Friday evening at the Mathison Cabin at Schaawe Lake. Meetings of the club are held on Friday, the 13th.

Pine Ridge

Ronald Sedenquist of the U. S. navy, who spent a week's leave at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sedenquist, left this morning to return to Great Lakes, Ill., for reassignment. He recently completed his boot training there.

Death Claims John Johnson

Familiar Figure Dies At Ann Arbor

John Johnson, 50, 222 North Court street, passed away Tuesday at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor where he had been confined for the past six weeks. He had undergone major surgery, but complications set in handicapping his fight for recovery.

Johnson was born in Gladstone June 1, 1900, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson. Before he became blind a little more than 20 years ago he worked at the flooring mill here and for the Seamen Body Works in Milwaukee. He worshipped at the First Lutheran church.

Surviving are the widow Hazel and children, Jackie Ponds of Minneapolis and Stanley and Shirley Johnson of Escanaba and the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. William Englehart and Leonard W. Johnson of Chicago, Alfred Johnson and Mrs. Perry Flannery of Gladstone Route 1 and Theodore F. Johnson of Gladstone.

The body is being shipped to Gladstone and will be removed to the Skradski funeral home. No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

Electricity is used in more than 350 different ways by the farmers of the United States.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to neighbors, friends and relatives for the assistance and sympathy tendered us at the time of our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved brother, Joseph Royer.

Especially are we grateful to those who sent spiritual and floral bouquets, offered autos for the services, the Rev. Fr. Walter Roemer, the pallbearers and all others who by word or deed assisted us at this time. The memory of these acts always will remain with us.

Cook Elected Rotary Head

Will Take Over Duties July 1

William J. Cook has been elected president of the Manistique Rotary club, succeeding Edward V. Jackson.

Other officers elected are Dr. E. J. Brenner, vice president; Keith Bundy, treasurer; Elwood Taylor, secretary; and I. J. McLaughlin and Peter Babladelis, directors.

New officers will take over their duties July 1.

Col. John W. Kelly was the speaker at the regular meeting of the club Monday noon, discussing the Korean situation and world conditions in general.

New Folder Is About Ready

Proofs Submitted To City Council

Manistique's new industrial brochure, prepared by the industrial committee of the Top O' Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce, is expected to be completed in about a week, it is reported by L. E. Wilson, committee chairman.

Proofs of the new booklet were submitted to members of the Manistique city council at their regular meeting Monday night. The booklet is illustrated with pictures and floor plans of several available industrial buildings in Manistique, and also contains information on other available industrial sites, the local labor supply, rates of pay, transportation facilities, and data on schools, churches and other local matters.

The industrial committee, formed about two months ago, plans to distribute the booklets to industrial firms in the mid-west who may be looking for sites for branch plants. Funds to finance the program were raised by contributions from business firms.

Mrs. Ray Opal Dies In Laurium Monday

Word was received here yesterday of the death of Mrs. Ray Opal, former Manistique resident. Mrs. Opal died Monday in Laurium.

Harry Vivian Is Sanitarian

Is Engaged On Temporary Basis

Harry Vivian, of Houghton, has been engaged by the Alger-Schoolcraft Health department to perform sanitarian work for Alger and Schoolcraft counties on a temporary part-time basis, it is reported.

Vivian, who is sanitarian for the Houghton-Keweenaw-Barraga health unit, has agreed to work five days monthly in the two counties until a permanent sanitarian is employed.

Because the time allocated to the two counties here, Vivian will not concern himself with resort sanitation. Different arrangements will have to be made to take care of this work after the resort season opens, it is reported.

Raymond LaFave, former sanitarian, resigned several months ago to re-enter the funeral director business. The health department, now operating with A. W. Heitman, of Manistique, and Elson Carberry, of Munising, as lay directors, plans to engage a new sanitarian as soon as possible.

Accident Case Is Being Tried

Jury Hearing In Civil Suit Opens

The civil action of Romeo, Haroid and Walter Rochefort against Carl Malmberg for injuries alleged to have been received in an auto accident Oct. 10, 1948, was started yesterday afternoon in circuit court.

Selection of a jury took place yesterday morning. Hearing evidence in the case are Curtis Clark, Grace Wood, Beulah McPhail, Ragnar Carlson, Fred C. Hinkson, Walter Downen, Elsie Klagstad, Harold Gilman, Clark Bashore, William Winkel, Gladys Weber and Hulda Riordan.

R. W. Nebel, of Munising, is attorney for Malmberg and the firm of Herbert, Wood and Hood is representing the Rocheforts.

The accident from which the case developed occurred about midnight October 10, 1948, when the Rochefort car is alleged to have been hit in the rear by a car driven by Malmberg.

Van Arnam Is C-C Secretary

Gladstone Man Is Hired Yesterday

Joseph Van Arnam, of Gladstone was engaged as secretary of the Top O' Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce at a special meeting of the chamber's board of directors yesterday afternoon.

Van Arnam, former secretary of the Gladstone chamber, will come to Manistique to take over his new duties in 10 to 15 days, it is reported.

The Gladstone man succeeds William H. Frederick who resigned his position here April 1 to accept employment with the United States Chamber of Commerce in the Green Bay-Milwaukee area.

Van Arnam served as secretary of the Gladstone chamber about four years, resigning his position to enter private business. He comes to Manistique well recommended by various Gladstone business firms.

Local chamber directors interviewed Van Arnam about a week ago.

Softball Group Elects Jensen; Spurs Activity

It won't be long now. Softball will be in the limelight again in Escanaba.

When the popular Jens Jensen shifts his allegiance from hockey to softball, it's a sign that the time has come for a change.

And Jens, who is "Mr. Softball" in Escanaba, has just been named vice president of the Escanaba Softball association, succeeding Cliff Beaudin, jr., who has moved to California.

The association named Steve Rodman to the board of control to succeed Lyle Utt, who is unable to devote enough time to the post.

Meeting In Two Weeks Further indication that the softball season is not far off comes with the association announcement that team managers are reminded to line up their team rosters and be present at the next association meeting in two weeks.

The association voted to purchase a tarpaulin for Memorial field and to close the north driveway around the field. Player passes will be issued for all league games.

The association went on record as favoring Escanaba as site for the state class B tournament. Association officials voted to charge St. Joseph high school $10 for the use of the field for football plus $6 to the city recreation department for lights.

Applications are being taken for umpires.

Lions To Fete Hermansville 5

HERMANSVILLE — The Hermansville Lions club will fete Coach Bob Tacker and his high school cagers at the Menominee Hotel at 7 p. m. (CST) Wednesday, April 25. This banquet honoring the cagers will be an annual event. It will be open to the public and tickets may be purchased from any Lion member or by calling the Menominee Hotel. Entertainment chairman Carl Swanson said the speaker and the program would be announced shortly.

Swanson has extended an invitation to neighboring Lions Clubs and Lions wishing reservations should call Swanson at the Menominee hotel.

Tommy Byrne Brightens Yank Hopes

(By The Associated Press) Tommy Byrne, the in-and-out left-hander of the New York Yankees, may prove to be the "silver lining" of the Bronx Bombers this year.

Byrne, at times brilliant and at other intervals erratic, looms at the moment as the shining light in an otherwise dismal picture for the two-time world champions.

Right now the chances of the Yanks repeating as baseball's world standard bearers are bleak. Shortstop Phil Rizzuto, the American league's most valuable player in 1950; righthander Allie Reynolds, world series star, and Joe Page, relief ace, are in Baltimore for medical checkups that may render each hors de combat for a few days to a greater part of the season.

Brightens Picture Byrne somewhat lightened the gloomy picture in the Yankee camp yesterday by pitching the champs to a 3-2 victory over the Boston Braves at Kansas City.

Tommy, who folded in mid-season last year, held the Braves to six hits, walked five and fanned three in his best outing of the spring.

The Yanks won in the last of the ninth when Joe Collins scored Cliff Mages from third base with a 350-foot single off the right field wall. Collins connected on a 3-1 pitch by portly Bob Hogue who took over from Johnny Sain after the 20-game winner bowed out for a pinch-hitter in the top of the ninth.

Home runs featured most of the other Grapefruit league exhibitions yesterday.

Pitcher Wallops Homer At Nashville, the New York Giants turned back the Cleveland Indians, 10-6, primarily on four-baggers by winning pitcher Dave Koslo and shortstop Alvin Dark. Koslo went the route and was tagged for a three-run homer by rookie Arantes Minoso in the ninth.

The Philadelphia Athletics scored eight runs in the second inning to swamp their Tarboro farm hands, 9-2, in the North Carolina city. Two homers by Sam Chaim and one each by Ferris Fain and Elmer Valo caused the damage.

A grand slam home run by Gil Hodges and another three-run blast by Pee Wee Reese paced the Brooklyn Dodgers to an easy 13-3 victory over Greensboro of the Carolina league. Chris Van Cuyk and Erv Palica limited the minor leaguers to seven safeties.

Johnny Wyrostek blasted two home runs and Grady Hatton one to pace the Cincinnati Reds to a 14-12 decision over the Washington Senators at Durham, N. C. Pitcher Sandolfo Consuegra and outfielder Gil Coan connected for

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

Basketball fans who saw Ted Fritsch clown at the Bonifas gym this winter when the Green Bay Packer basketball team played in Escanaba will be interested in this piece about Fritsch by Art Daley, sports editor of the Green Bay Press Gazette:

Professional football has no Al Schacht... but it has one Ted Fritsch... Fritsch is a Packer fullback veteran of nine years, a noted alumnus of Central State Teachers college of Stevens Point, a native of Spencer, Wis., currently a resident of Manitowoc and Green Bay, and a downright nice and amusing character... we've always figured that a gent like Al Schacht could find a place in pro football as a sideline entertainer of some sort or between-halves routiner.

Fritsch would be a natural for the post... What would he do?... He has a bucketful of foolish ideas and stunts plus enough natural nerve and humor to put them across... Fritsch's clowning on the basketball court is widely known... With the Oshkosh All Stars a couple of years ago, Fritsch saved many a game from boredom with his football rolls on the court, selling peanuts in the stands during timeouts, etc... He does his stuff off the court, too.

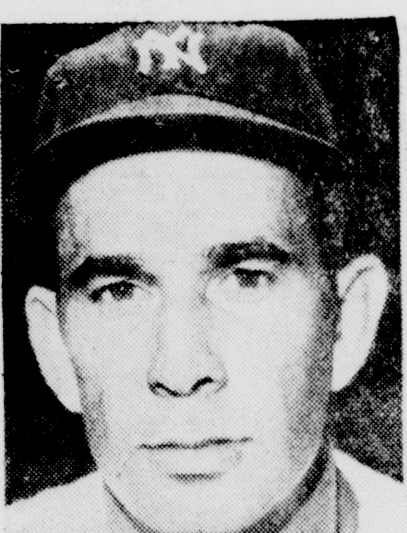

The Stars were quartered in a large city hotel one evening and things got pretty boring—until Teddy ambled into the lobby wearing nothing but (1) red flannels and (2) an overcoat... His teammates and the hotel patrons, needless to say, went into hysterics during his antics.

Fritsch joined the Sheboygan Redskins for an exhibition against the All-America Girl Redheads the other night and 3,300 fans (one of the biggest crowds in years) turned out for the belly laughs... Fritsch dressed properly for the occasion and drew one of the two fouls called all night on Sheboygan—for pinching one of the Redheads... Teddy was a natural for keeping the Packer spirits high... Coming home from the east several years ago, Fritsch put on one of the most terrific imitations of Curly Lambeau you'd ever want to see... About 25 of the boys were in the diner for breakfast when Fritsch uncovered a hat like Curly always wore... Up and down the aisle Teddy stomped with cigar dangle and made with the pep talk.

A brakeman's untended hat and coat aren't safe on a train with Fritsch around... It's not unusual for Teddy to walk down the aisle wearing brakeman's clothes and swinging a lantern, yelling the next stop or anything that came to his mind. We've often wondered what Ted could do to an opposing lineman if he was playing in the line... Once one of the most terrifying fullbacks in the league, Teddy has slowed down somewhat... But wouldn't he be a natural at guard—with his for-a-guard 220 pounds and steady chatter?... Man!

Musial May Lose $35,000 By Pay Curb

(By The Associated Press)

With the exception of Stan Musial, who may lose his $35,000 pay hike, baseball players in general won't be affected by the new government ruling which puts a control on their salaries.

The wage stabilization board in Washington decided to put a ceiling on baseball salaries. This is what it amounts to:

A baseball team can't pay any player more than it paid its highest-salaried star in 1950.

Musial, the St. Louis Cardinals' brilliant outfielder, falls into this category.

Last season, Musial, the Cards' highest paid player, received a reported $50,000. This season he reportedly got a $35,000 increase.

But under the rules—which, incidentally, aren't official yet—Musial would lose his pay hike.

Won't Hit Kell

In Houston, Owner Fred Saigh of the Cardinals said he would ask the board to let Musial keep his raise because "I feel Stan is getting a fair salary."

The ruling, of course, does not apply to all players who have received big increases. George Kell of Detroit received a fat pay boost, but, unlike Musial, he can keep every penny of it.

Kell's salary was reported to have been upped $15,000 to $45,000. He'll be able to keep all of this because Detroit Pitcher Hal Newhouse received $50,000 last year as Detroit's highest-paid player.

Outfielder Al Zarilla and First Baseman Eddie Robinson of the Chicago White Sox are not as fortunate. Both figure to lose raises.

Joe Di Maggio of the Yankees ($100,000), Ted Williams of the Red Sox ($125,000) and Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh ($65,000) are not affected since they are getting the same salary as last year.

AUTOMOTIVE HINT

Hard carbon should not be permitted to remain long on the cylinders, because it ultimately flakes away and falls into the oil stream, adding to the wear on the motor.

The tusks of such animals as the hippopotamus, walrus, and narwhal are used for ivory in addition to those of the elephant.

Nine Golfers Out For St. Joe Team

(By The Associated Press)

Although they aren't ill, several St. Joseph high school athletes are having a lot to do with some "little white pills" these days.

The pills, of course, are golf balls and the athletes are prospective members of the St. Joseph high school golf team.

Rev. Fr. Stephen Schneider is coaching the team again this year and already has had the boys out at the golf club getting their swing in the groove.

Don Paulin, captain of the basketball team, and John Jungles are the only regulars from last year's team. Jim Cashion played in some matches but did not earn a letter. All three will be out for the team this year.

In addition, newcomers include Alfred Dufour, David Hirn, Jim Zimmerman, Dick Cass, Tom Dishneau, and Stanley Venne.

Tryouts are in process to determine the final team makeup. Fr. Schneider said today that Paulin, Jungles and Hirn to date have shown the most promise.

It is hoped to schedule matches with Escanaba, Gladstone and Menominee. The team will be entered in the Upper Peninsula tournament at Iron Mountain, May 28.

Because of lack of interest, St. Joseph will not have a tennis team this year.

Ray Famechon Gets Revenge

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Ray Famechon of France is right back among the leaders in the parade toward a possible featherweight championship boxing bout with Sandy Saddler.

Famechon was up there once before. A month ago, however, he took a second round technical knockout defeat from unknown Eddie Burgin of Cincinnati.

Last night a sharper, a harder-hitting and a smarter Famechon gave the same Burgin a ten-round beating. Only Burgin was bleeding at the finish. Famechon weighed 127½; Burgin 125.

The fight provided an answer to a previous scrap between the two on March 6 in which Burgin won a TKO victory in two rounds. That ended in a misunderstanding over whether Famechon quit or whether he was ordered to stop. Famechon speaks only a few words of English.

When it was all over last night Famechon had this to say in broken English.

"Me excuse first fight?"

There wasn't anything even reasonably close to a knockdown. Famechon bored in constantly and never let the Cincinnati Negro connect with those vicious right or left hooks which made him groggy in their first meeting.

Why Not Sign Me? BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (AP) — Manager Red Rolfe hoped that two days of practice would make the Detroit Tigers look more like their 1950 snappy selves as they resumed exhibition play today.

The slumping Tigers went into a two-game series with Birmingham of the Southern association. They've been drilling here for the last two days after losing to a minor league club that made them look like a cellar-caliber team.

Memphis of the Southern association humiliated them by taking two games out of three in a series at Memphis.

Hal Newhouse was the choice for mound duty today. A foot injury he suffered at Memphis has almost entirely healed. Teddy Gray probably will pitch for the Tigers tomorrow.

That Boston Power! Bo-Bo Newsom, a former Tiger who now is pitcher for Birmingham, had a lot of fun pulling Tiger legs yesterday. He was the most talkative of a group of former Tigers who got together here.

Others were Paul Richards, Roger (Doc) Cramer, Lou Kretlow, Billy Pierce, Joe Erazut and Pinky Higgins, now with the Chicago White Sox.

After watching the current crop of Tiger hurlers work, Bo-Bo observed, "Can't see why ya all keep those fellers and didn't sign Ol' Bo-Bo."

Newsom also gave the Tigers his reaction to the recent visit of the Boston Red Sox here.

"Boy, did you ever see so much power!" he exclaimed. "Why, man, a team shouldn't get so many hits even in batting practice. They got a rough hitting lineup, and the second team is just about as bad."

In one inning the Red Sox shelled Newsom for nine runs.

New Team Leader In Bowling Meet

ST. PAUL, Minn. — (AP) — The Marcell products team of East Paterson, N. J., swept into first place in the team event of the ABC tournament here early today with a 2,992.

Marcell bowlers ousted Thompson heating of Cincinnati which had held the lead with a 2,979. It was the third total of the tournament—only four days old—that was higher than last year's winning figure of 2,952.

St. Paul's Adolph Schultz rolled a 696 to take over the top spot in singles. The doubles team of Otto Jorgenson and Frank Heumiller of Salem, S. D., rolled into second place with 1,246.

The ancient Greeks and Romans considered the sneeze a sign of omen from the gods, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Turk Broda, who allowed less than a goal a game in the Boston series, will probably be in the nets for Toronto, with Gerry McNeil in goal for Montreal trying to duplicate his brilliant job of the Detroit series.

Fleetwood To Head Hermansville Team

HERMANSVILLE, Mich. — Glenn Fleetwood manager of the City team for the past five years, has been named manager of the City Baseball team in the Tri-County Baseball league. William Radue is president of the club.

Seventeen directors elected are: Richard Lungenhausen, Tony Machalk, Sven Anderson, Leonard Schultz, Leo T. Doran, Edward Johnson, Roy E. Johnson, William Radue, Joseph St. Juliana, Frank J. Rainbow League Meets Sunday

Old Bo-Bo Kids Skidding Tigers

Whether the Rainbow league will continue operation this summer in the face of the manpower shortage may be decided at the Trenary town hall Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

George Brown of Trenary, league president, has called a meeting of all league and team officials and others interested in seeing the league operate.

"It is urged that all teams send representatives to the meeting to offer their views," said Vincent Trotter of Trenary, Rainbow league secretary.

"This meeting should give league officials and others a good indication as to the possibilities of continuing baseball under questionable conditions this summer."

Last year the team operated in two divisions, with Escanaba, Gladstone and Manistique playing in the southern division.

Escanaba has been offered a franchise in the Tri-County league but no decision has been made.

Big Ten Baseball Season Opens Friday

CHICAGO — (AP) — Teams, including co-champion Wisconsin, will launch the Big Ten's 1951 baseball campaign this weekend.

The co-champion Badgers play a Friday-Saturday set at Indiana, while Illinois is at Iowa and new contender Michigan State at Purdue.

Michigan, which shared the 1950 crown with Wisconsin, each with a 9-3 record, opens its conference campaign a week later, April 20-21, entertaining Illinois.

On the same dates, Minnesota opens at Ohio State and Northwestern begins Big Ten play at home against Iowa.

Funeral Rites To Be On Thursday

Frank Henry Farrand, 1007 State road, died at 10:40 a. m. Tuesday at the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital where he had been a patient since Sunday. He had been ill for the past three months. He was 67.

He was born August 14, 1883, in Manistique and had spent virtually all of his life in this community. In 1939 he was married to the former Dorothy Henry who survives. He was employed as a photographer much of his life.

Besides his widow he leaves a son, Archie Farrand, and a daughter, Karen Lee, both of Manistique.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday from the Morton funeral home, with Rev. William H. Schobert, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating. The body will be placed in the Lakeview receiving vault.

Caretaker Collects $345 And Disappears As Five Claim Flat

DETROIT, Mich.—(AP)—Apartment caretaker Charles Brown collected $345 from five different room seekers as advance rent for one apartment. Then Brown disappeared.

The deception was discovered when Mrs. Vinnie Carter, 38, showed up to claim the apartment. Mrs. Gladys Kinshella, 28, already had moved in. While they were arguing, Carl Teague, 34, and Kenneth Clarkson, 36, both arrived.

And finally, Brock Root, 24, the fifth victim, showed up. He, Clarkson, Teague and Mrs. Carter all had paid $70 each. Mrs. Kinshella was out $65. But she has the apartment.

Police issued a warrant for Brown's arrest—when they catch up with him.
